Festival of Lights

Winter Celebration of Everything Lyttelton

Everything is set to go for Lyttelton's Festival of Lights. Scheduled for Friday July 29th organisers are gearing up for a great evening. Starting at 6.00pm and running through until 10.30pm London Street will be a buzz with activity.

Opening with the mask parade and some great children's entertainment at 6.00pm the night will burst into the Lyttelton Port Company fireworks around 7.20pm. You'll then be able to dance the night away to the sounds of many local performers whilst enjoying a hot drink and some yummy street food.

If you would like to have a street stall but have not booked yet, please contact Sue-Ellen Sandilands 328 9093 or email office@lyttelton.net.nz. Alternatively if you'd like to help out as a volunteer contact Sue-Ellen or register directly at our web site www.lyttelton.net.nz.

Hang Up Entertainment will start to light up the township from Monday July 25th so if you have a light or two it would be great if you get into the festive spirit as well. Lyttelton is ready for a party.

Sponsored by the Christchurch City Council, Lyttelton Port of Christchurch, the Southern Trust, Lion Foundation, Canterbury Community Trust, AMG and Lyttelton Engineering and produced by Project Lyttelton.

Harbour Arts Collective

Lyttelton Draws on Creativity

Wow! A great turnout at our first collective meeting - a total of forty people and a wide range of considered ideas to get us thinking about what the 'Lyttelton Arts Precinct' might look like. In summary the key ideas:

Wish list included: building design; large spaces with moveable walls; natural light; sea views; iconic, reflecting the port; outdoor spaces; provide cafe/food option.

Facilities: one-stop creative civic centre which might also include the Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre; City Council office; the museum; the library; range of spaces for all arts and creative activities; flexible rental options on workspaces; space for theatre; dance; writing; poetry; and crafts.

Location: central to township

Funding: a whole range of ideas around this - from cake stalls to Bill Gates; art auctions; to tunnel toll!

Community Support: a multi-cultural project, especially connecting Pakeha and Tangata Whenua; involve as wide a cross section of the community as possible.

And to sum up, a comment made:

"This is a great idea and would brand Lyttelton and the Harbour Basin as the heart of creative people and expression. Well done for getting your dream prodded along the path of reality."

This acknowledgment applies to us all - we have begun the journey together!

Meeting with Christchurch City Council

We met with Mark, Janine, and Kent at the 'new' CCC building on Tuesday – the first time either Elfi or I had been into the Art Gallery since 'you-know-when'. The walls are now lined with new 'art' - maps of the city, site plans, mind maps, and coloured post-it notes.

In short we thought the meeting went very well. They all took notes while we talked, and vice versa. After an hour of sharing information and ideas we came away with a plan for a way forward.

Quite simply there is no funding at this stage for anything we are looking to do. Until work such as 'The Master Plan' is completed (back to the Lyttelton community in mid-July for a review before a final proposal goes to council prior to its release in September) the CCC is holding onto all funds as it obviously needs to prioritise actions across the city, including Lyttelton e.g. water, sewerage, roads, retaining walls...

There are no buildings we can access right now either.

The option that has the strongest chance of working is the acquisition/use of some council land. We discussed sites around Lyttelton and what might work for this project. Janine is now following through on determining what land options could be considered in establishing the 'arts space'.

We have been encouraged to put in a proposal for the project. At this stage that will look like a single page document outlining what facilities the space would likely include, and in what ways it would benefit the community. I will at least get the project officially into the 'mix' of all the projects that will be up for consideration in the Master Plan.

Once the initial proposal is in we have been asked to put together a Business Plan. This obviously is a major undertaking but is essential to do if the decision makers are to take this project seriously. Obviously the more work we can do to prove our 'cause' the more likely it is we will secure an agreement around land and/or funding for the build, as well as have a plan to take to other funders.

And once that is done we need to begin work on the Business Plan. There are three other projects that need attention:

We need a 'stock take' of arts facilities in the Harbour Basin area. Including spaces that artists already have access to right now, spaces that are available for use on a casual basis e.g. community halls, warehouse spaces. It would also be good to know if there are any spaces vacant at the moment that might be suitable for artists to establish a workshop or studio – there are definitely artists in our community who need workspaces right now.

How many artists really do need space right now? To pursue funding and find either existing buildings to use, or find locations on which to locate temporary workshops we need to know who does need space, how much space, and for what purpose.

We need funds to cover costs and, as the project progresses, to remunerate those involved in coordinating future gatherings, sharing information, maintaining a public profile, creating essential documents, attending meetings with CCC and/or land owners, and keeping the project on track. While this is a community project and much of the background work will be done on a voluntary basis taking responsibility for and managing the process, as we are doing at the moment (and it does not always have to be Elfi or me), should, in my opinion, be a paid, in some way.

Setting up a Trust – does anyone have experience in doing this so we can fast-track the process? This would enable us to manage funds 'properly' and give the Collective some status.

We need a core team to help move this project forward, and require different skill sets at different times. If you think you can help us in the development of the business plan please let us know, or on any of the points above.

Or if you are not sure how you can help but really want to be involved... please let us know ;-). The more of us who are involved the more easily we can make progress. We all have a common dream – we all need to contribute to make it a reality.

Feedback on any of this is welcomed however replies may take some days as I have to keep my employer happy too . Best wishes on this beautiful day in the Harbour Basin!

“medication”

A row of bottles
on my shelf Caused me to analyze myself.
One yellow pill
I have to pop
goes to my heart
so it won't stop.

A little white one that I take Goes to my hands so they won't shake.
The blue ones that I use a lot
Tell me I'm happy
when I'm not.

The purple pill
goes to my brain
And tells me that I have no pain.
The capsules tell me not to wheeze
or cough or choke
or even sneeze.

The red ones, smallest of them all go to my blood so I won't fall.
The orange ones,
very big and bright prevent my leg cramps in the night.

Such an array of brilliant pills
helping to cure
all kinds of ills.
But what I'd really like to know...
is what tells each one where to go!

2011 Taste Farmers Market Awards

Lyttelton Stall Holders Win “Best Food Producer” and “Freshest Producer”

Sunday 3rd July, Farmers Market managers, stallholders and customers were treated to a great evening at Mud House Winery. A feature of the night was the 2011 Taste Farmers Market Awards. Lyttelton Farmers Market stallholders were successful in two of the five categories.:

Best Food Producer from the Kitchen Bench

Angela Thacker from Rowandale Homestead. Producing home grown organic herbs and pesto prepared with all NZ products. The delicious pesto is made using an original recipe combination, and they have a wide variety of uses. Use it as a yummy spread, or up-flavour pasta, sauces, and savories. A great source of vitamins and minerals. Farmers Market organiser Wendy Everingham just loves her Parsley Pesto.

Freshest Producer from the Sea

Rob Dawson from Moko Freshwater Eel. Rob’s eel is also another delicious product. They smoke the eel using natural New Zealand woods for exceptional quality and taste, resulting in a unique Kiwi gourmet delicacy. Ask Rob what his favourite way to eat the smoked eel is, and he replies “there are many ways of using our product, but we like to eat the eel simple, just piled on hot buttered toast with horse radish and avocado, or in sushi”.

“Well done to these two local businesses. Great to get such good recognition for such great products” said Lyttelton Farmers Market organiser, Wendy Everingham.

Ballantynes Retail Therapy

Timaru Day Trips

Earthquake-hit Christchurch store Ballantynes has taken nearly 1400 customers on "escapism" shopping trips to Timaru. Ballantynes started the bus service to its Timaru branch in April, offering shoppers an alternative way to get their Ballantynes fix after the Christchurch store was closed because of February's earthquake.

Hostess Denise Bird, who is also the company's shoe and luggage buyer, said the trip was "something special" for people who did not want to shop online or drive to Timaru themselves. "It's a fun day to get away from Christchurch. It's a day of escapism," Bird said. Most shoppers were women aged over 40, but some younger women and a few "brave" men had taken the trip. "They're pretty brave to come on board with all the ladies. The men tend to slide down to make sure they're not spotted."

Each guest receives a complementary glass of juice or bubbles on arrival in Timaru as well as a light lunch of finger food and a variety of exclusive promotions. Customer feedback had been positive, and the company planned to continue the trips until the Christchurch store could reopen.

She said Ballantynes hoped to reopen on October 29, "although we don't know what's around the corner". The trips cost $20.00, and places can be booked by calling the Ballantynes customer service desk on 03 379 7400.

Bus departs from Burnside Rugby Club at 9.00am and departs Timaru at 3.30pm. You can expect to be back in Christchurch by 5.30pm. Once you are in Timaru, you do not need to stay at Ballantynes once in Timaru, but spend the day in and around Timaru.

July dates: 13th, 14th, 15th, 17th, 21st, 24th, 28th, 31st.

August dates: 04th, 07th, 11th, 14th, 18th, 21st, 25th, 28th

Community and Voluntary Sector Forum

Acknowledging the Importance of Volunteers

The voluntary sector contributes enormously to the social and democratic wellbeing of Canterbury. It is vitally important that this role is recognised by the leaders of the recovery effort, and that our needs are fully taken into account as together we rebuild our central city, suburbs and region.

The Council of Social Services in Christchurch and Te Runaka ki Otautahi o Kai Tahu are hosting this forum to bring the sector together to agree on some key messages that we would like to convey to the recovery leaders. To stimulate our thinking several speakers will give short addresses: Garth Nowland-Foreman, with an overview of the sector and its strengths and challenges; and Nick Clarke, of Christian World Service, with some experiences of local NGOs in other countries recovering from disasters; Paul Barber, from Council of Christian Social Services, about social wellbeing and the sector's role.

The tangata whenua, community and voluntary sector exists alongside government, commerce and households. If you are part of this sector and have a concern for its strength, visibility and ongoing health, we would love to have you join us:

When: Thursday 28th July, 9.00am - 3.00pm

Where: St Albans Baptist Church Hall, 64 McFaddens Road, Mairehau

“cheap therapy”

When a package
arrives I quickly
open it wide
And hastily remove all the stuff found inside.
I discard all items
except the plastic wrapped That piece with bubbles in which air is trapped.

I spread the sheet
and look downward
with glee.
And with two fingers, I pop one,
two, then three.
I feel quite content and my face gets a glow
I pop some more and move on to the next row.

I'm feeling so good I can't think of stopping
As the room fills with the sounds of popping.
Every worry and care and each little trouble Floats away with the pop of each air bubble.

When I finally reach the end I feel quite mellow
All that popping has made me a contented fellow.
If you are like me,
and contentment
is a rarity,
Get some bubble
wrap: It's cheaper than therapy.

Lyttelton Port Company

Te Awaparahi Bay Reclamation

Reclamation is a win-win for the City and Port. The Lyttelton Port of Christchurch reclamation project, at Te Awaparahi Bay to the east of the container operations, is a win-win for the city and port. Clean, 100% recycled hard fill is being diverted from landfill. At the same time, the port will get the space it needs to ensure it can continue to contribute to the economic wellbeing of the region as a major cargo hub.

Space has become particularly critical since the earthquakes. In the February quakes, port wharves, breakwaters, quays and reclaimed land moved significantly - in some instances nearly a metre horizontally. There has been further movement and damage from the 13 June earthquakes. Engineering reports reveal the need for major rebuilds and, on top of that, due to ongoing settlement, we'll need to resurface the container terminal at least twice over the next three to five years. Currently we are operating with up to a third less land as the repair works are rolled out through the port. Meanwhile, operations continue, often under trying circumstances. This situation is exacerbated by growing trade volumes.

Our 10ha reclamation will provide critical port infrastructure which is urgently required to support our rebuild programme. We expect this project will take about two years to complete. Hydrodynamic modelling of the potential effect of the 10ha reclamation have concluded that the effects on the harbour will be insignificant beyond the immediate vicinity of the reclamation. No coal will be handled or stored on the reclamation under the current consents.

Environmental Safeguards

Rigorous best-practice measures

Quality of rubble: Stringent monitoring controls have been established to ensure that only clean fill that meets strict criteria is placed into the reclamation area. Acceptable materials include stone, bricks, tiles, aggregates, concrete and glass. The rubble is sorted and inspected by demolition experts at the demolition site before it is consigned to the port. As part of our consents LPC has detailed Acceptance Criteria for the material going into the reclamation. The criteria have been issued to all demolition companies and CERA. On arrival, trucks are inspected and photographed. Should any loads not meet the Acceptance Criteria they are refused and details provided to ECan. In accordance with consents, we keep comprehensive records of all loads received, and the origin of the material and composition, and this information is recorded for each load using new handheld devices.

Containment of Debris: The construction methodology ensures minimal disruption of the seabed and thus reduces the possibility of any significant mud waves and associated sediment plumes. We are installing a $220,000 purpose-built containment boom and silt curtain designed in accordance with international best practice. The total cost includes additional boom length.

Monitoring of Beaches: We are regularly monitoring harbour beaches to detect any possible demolition litter that may have escaped our safeguards. Anyone with concerns can contact our Environmental Manager on 027 298 1347.

“ must dust ”

Dust if you must,
but wouldn't it
be better
To paint a picture,
or write a letter,
Bake a cake,
or plant a seed;
Ponder the difference between want and need?

Dust if you must, but
there's not much time,
With rivers to swim,
and mountains
to climb;
Music to hear, and
books to read;
Friends to cherish,
and life to lead.

Dust if you must, but
the world's out there
With the sun in your eyes, and the wind in your hair;
A flutter of snow, a shower of rain,
This day will not come around again.

Dust if you must, but
bear in mind,
Old age will come and it's not kind.
And when you go (and go you must)
You, yourself, will make more dust.

Voices of Children

A Video Archival Project

We are looking for children to tell their earthquake stories.

When children tell their stories about the Christchurch earthquakes we listen. We are impressed with the way they describe what they do, what happens to their pets and their families and how they cope with the aftershocks. Through it all, children's optimism, humour and hope for the future shine through.

We do not want to film children who are traumatised or whose families are grieving. Children's stories give us all hope.

Anna Cottrell, producer and director from AC Productions, with help from Whitebait Television, is filming children's stories with support from the Families Commission and the National Commission for UNESCO NZ.

The potential outcomes for this project are:

- Archives
- Web for education purposes
- Film Festivals and TV programmes
- Every child will get a copy of the DVD

Apart from their graphic stories, children will also be asked for their views on a future Christchurch. We hope to film children's drawings, models, plans and ideas.

Voices of Children will be great for the archives, to look back on in years to come. It will be a treasure trove of humour, comfort – sorrow and hope. It will be an excellent education resource, on-line and on DVD, for families, schools, libraries and community groups - here and overseas.

At a time of profound sadness for many people Voices of Children will shine a light and offer hope for the future.

Filming: The filming has occurred at Whitebait Television and plans are in place to film again in Christchurch before the end of this school term.

Message from Anna: I will be in touch to explain if you require more information. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any queries or concerns. Christchurch is my home town and although I live in Wellington you all have our deepest sympathy for what you are enduring.

To be a part of this project, please contact:

When you're up against a trouble,
Meet it squarely,
face to face;
Lift your chin and
set your shoulders, Plant your feet and take a brace.

When it's vain to try to dodge it,
Do the best that you can do;
You may fail, but
you may conquer,
See it through!

Black may be the clouds about you
And your future
may seem grim,
But don't let your
nerve desert you;
Keep yourself in fighting trim.

If the worst is bound to happen,
Spite of all that
you can do,
Running from it will not save you,
See it through!

Even hope may seem
but futile,
When with troubles
you're beset,
But remember you are facing Just what other men have met.

You may fail, but
fall still fighting;
Don't give up,
what ever you do;
Eyes front, head high
to the finish.
See it through!
