Just Too Close and Too Soon

Banks Peninsula Local Body Election Results

For the Christchurch area, Banks Peninsula was the ward with the highest percentage of votes cast in the local body elections. With 58.89% of residents participating in the local body elections, or 3963 votes, it still remains a close call as to who will be the next Councillor representing Banks Peninsula.

Voting results released on Saturday night highlighted a small margin between Andrew Turner with 1011 votes; Nuk Korako with 1006 votes and Paula Smith with 952 votes. With just five votes between Turner and Korako – there is no telling which way the numbers will go when the special votes are counted this week.

Quoting from an interview with The Press over the weekend, Nuk Korako said “we can’t do anything about it anymore. I had a feeling it would be close, but not this close. These preliminary results are in the margin of error for a recount”.

Andrew Turner explains “we have always known it was a strong field with a number of candidates. We all went into our campaigns wanting to win. It is a very interesting time’.

For Turner and Korako it could be a long week, with final results not expected to be through until Thursday. Preliminary votes:

Andrew Turner 1011
Nuk Korako 1006
Paula Smith 952

New Look Community Board

Leading votes for the Lyttelton Mt Herbert Community Board reveal that two new members will be looking toward joining the board:

Andrew Turner 1677	Paula Smith 1600
Adrian Te Patu 1159	Christine Wilson 941
Jane Broughton 918	Ann Jolliffe 885

Note: The Lyttelton Mt Herbert Community Board will be formed around five members. If elected as Banks Peninsula Councillor, Andrew Turner will withdraw.

Reserves Management Committees

Want to Join?

Now that the Community Board Elections are over there are another series of elections that need to take place. Reserve Management Committees are sub committees of the Council in particular the Lyttelton and Mount Herbert Community Board. Within Lyttelton Harbour there are three additional reserve sub committees:

- Allendale Reserve Management Committee
- Lyttelton Reserves Management Committee
- Lyttelton Recreational Ground Management Committee

By getting involved with these committees you can become actively involved with the day to day and longer term management of these reserves. This can include track management, tree planting and development of Reserve Management Plans.

Whilst you are bound by relevant pieces of legislation such as the Reserves Act and the RMA it gives you the opportunity actively participate. Having local people participate will ensure that the people who are passionate about these open spaces will play an active role in their management ensuring that local needs and desires are met. From experience we all know that if we give responsibility to others who reside outside this area the projects are generally not as good. We all tend to look after our own backyard better because that is what we know best.

Locals Rewi Couch and Brian Downey have been particularly active on the Lyttelton Reserves Committee. Their passion and expertise has been able to be put to good use on this committee. Together they produced the Whaka Raupo Reserve Interim Management Plan Review. Their work suggested that the area will return to native forest without much human intervention. They also recommended that the committee work more closely with its associate members and the community. The committee has made a clear attempt to keep the wider community informed of their plans and activities. They are always sending reports out and now have a web portal on the Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre website.

Community input and passion are ensuring good results for our reserves and greater connections with our local community. If you have passion and skills to share with this dedicated team of people please put your name forward at the community elections.

London Street Retaining Wall Repairs Complete

SCIRT Completion Notice

The reconstruction and repair of the retaining wall on London Street is now complete. The kerb and footpath have been reinstated and the wall has been painted with graffiti guard paint. The temporary timber bracing in front of the red rock section have been removed and maintenance work is complete.

Further storm water, wastewater or road works may be required in the future. You will be notified in advance if this work is required.

If you have any queries or concerns about the work, please contact the team at Fletcher Infrastructure on 0800 444 919 between 8.30am and 5.00pm Monday to Friday and we will be happy to help you. You can also contact us by email at CIRinfo@fcc.co.nz.

SCIRT would like to thank you for the patience, hospitality and support you have shown us while we have been working in Lyttelton.

Rushani's Cake for Greatness

Acknowledging Lyttelton Community House

Last week, Rushani baked a decadent chocoholics cake topped with coffee and chocolate ganache, hazelnuts, pistachios and maltesers as part of her Cake for Greatness, giving back to the community campaign. And this time the very talented ladies at the Lyttelton Community House were the recipients.

In an email to the Review team, Rushani said "I'm doing a Cake for Greatness delivery today to the volunteers at the Community house who cook the meals for the elderly in Lyttelton. Love that people are so dedicated to ensuring our precious people have a hot meal each day. The elderly are people I have always liked to help as when we were young my mum and dad use to ask me to go down to our local rest home in Opunake and play the piano for the residents, while he visited his patients. At the time I didn't understand why he wanted me to do it, but now I can see it."

In presenting the freshly baked cake, Rushani said "thank you to all the lovely ladies at the Lyttelton Community House, for the time you give to ensuring the elderly in our community have a hot meal each day. You are total local legends!"

If you would like to nominate a local group of people, business or individual who deserves special recognition and a well deserved treat with their morning cuppa, send your nominations to Rushani at: <https://www.facebook.com/pages/Rushanis/222728904531644> and try to give some specific examples of community kindness/greatness/awesomeness, where possible. You will also find Rushani at the Lyttelton Farmers Market, every second Saturday, with a range of delectable home baked treats.

Tin Palace Chalk Drawing

As part of The Big Draw the Tin Palace organised a chalk drawing event where people were encouraged to draw anything on the pavement – for fun, for art, for any reason.

A fantastic day was had by all, and the Tin Palace was impressed with the local creativity including a pathway featuring a snake and ladder game, chess set, beanstalk through to an owl and a pussy cat.

Living Springs Leads Way

Expansive Steam Live Project

Most of the Allandale Stream and its tributaries are sited on land owned by Living Springs and the Trust is currently rolling out an expansive programme to retire all of the stream and its tributaries from livestock grazing extending from the crater rim to the sea. They are also undertaking broad range riparian planting programs along stream boundaries in attempts to filter out pollutants, limit soil erosion and encourage stream life.

Stage I began in March 2011 and involved retiring the southern tributary (a forty hectare bush clad basin north of Coopers Knob) from all livestock grazing. The fencing for this project was achieved with financial assistance from the Transpower Community Care Fund.

Stage II on the Allandale flats was carried out through the winter months of 2012. It involved large scale clearing of old poplars, willows and macrocarpas, 870 metres of livestock fencing and a planting programme of approximately 2000 native grasses, shrubs and trees.

Stage III will begin in November 2013 with a 500 metre fencing project running down from Lion Rock and closing off the mid-tributary -- a bush-clad basin above the Bellbird Heights facility. This stage will also include the retirement of a further 500 metre stretch of the stream valley running down from the Outdoor Camping Centre to close to Bamfords Road.

The project will include a planting programme of 4700 native grasses, shrubs and trees. Both Stage II and III have been made possible with grants assistance from ECan.

The heavy rains in June caused many slips and much sediment to be washed into the harbour but projects such as this have reduced the impact of this wide-reaching local issue.

Stream health overall is enhanced, as invertebrates, native fish and eels all require a certain amount of silt-free river bed in order to survive, hunt, and complete certain parts of their life cycles. The Port Hills streams are important local strongholds for Inanga, Tuna (eels) and Kokopu species, while the numbers of these endangered species are falling Canterbury wide.

Banks Peninsula Walking Festival

November 2-3 and November 9-10 2013

Over two weekends, this year's Banks Peninsula Walking Festival celebrates the stunning scenery and intimate communities of the Banks Peninsula. The event is designed by local people who love to share their passion for this special place with people from the wider community. Participants will enjoy a refreshing walk and are guaranteed an enjoyable experience as they relax, meet new people and together absorb the stories and atmosphere of this rugged land, right on the doorstep of Christchurch.

Events will showcase our communities and their diversity and range from information rich short tours of the towns, to major tramps across the hills, so there is something for everyone young and old, fit or not so fit, planned into the program.

To take a peek at the walking events planned, visit: www.lyttelton.net.nz/festivals/festival-of-walking

Cholmondeley Gets Rekindling

Excitement is all around at Cholmondeley as the children work on their secret project for Sculpture on the Peninsula. This year Sculpture on the Peninsula will take place on the 8, 9 & 10th of November. This fantastic event is run by The Lombardy Trust, it is the largest exhibition of sculpture in the South Island and takes place every second year on the historic Loudon Farm on Banks Peninsula. This year is very special indeed for the children at Cholmondeley who have the wonderful opportunity to have Emma Byrne from Rekindle take them through the incredible creative process of designing and creating a truly unique sculpture that will be displayed at the event and will be for sale.

Rekindle is a social enterprise that makes furniture, sculpture, interiors and jewellery from waste wood and focuses on the social and environmental value of their work. Rekindle has a gallery in New Regent Street, Christchurch. Emma has been working with the children, from the initial concept, which started from the children's discussions and ideas, to painting pictures of what they would like the sculpture to be and how it would look and feel, to the wonderful sculpture that is taking shape and continues to develop each week. Reinforcing steel was used by Tim McGurk, another talented member of Rekindle, to make the frame, and the children set out with the Cholmondeley care and education team to locate and collect items to be used to bring their sculpture to life.

Every child that has been cared for at Cholmondeley in recent weeks and the children that will be with us over the next month will all have the opportunity to be involved in creating this wonderful sculpture. Every child's contribution is so important and will make this sculpture very special indeed. Thank you to Emma and everyone else involved from Rekindle. We really appreciate your time, knowledge and enthusiastic commitment throughout this project. The children are loving the experience and like all of us are looking forward to seeing the sculpture in place at Sculpture on the Peninsula. Thank you also to The Lombardy Trust for organising such a great event, with so many wonderful sculptures for everyone to enjoy in such a beautiful location, and for their continued support of Cholmondeley.

Help Us, To Help You More

Support the Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre

The Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre is back into full swing so we are able to offer the sorts of services we could prior to the upheavals of the last few years. We have understood the enormity of the quakes on our community and the wider tourism industry. For that reason we suspended our membership packages and have operated on generous grants from The Canterbury Community Trust, Christchurch City Council and the Community Grants scheme plus donations from our appreciative readers of the Lyttelton Review. Whilst memberships have been suspended we have continued to advertise all of your businesses and activities as we knew how important that was to the recovery of our community.

Our entire team are volunteers. There are over 20 of us who strive to make the harbour a friendly place to visit. Roles span customer service, to administration to writing and curation of the arts space. Our team come from all the settlements around the harbour and we are all passionate about our special place. Your volunteer Information Centre team creates a vibrant destination for all Lyttelton Harbour and Banks Peninsula visitors. We offer our advice freely and with great local knowledge that benefits the traveller and local residents.

It's time for us to start our membership packages again. We charge $165 (including GST) per year for membership at the centre. Membership enables us to promote your business more, list it on our website, include extra profiles in the Lyttelton Harbour Review and host your brochures. We believe we are really good value for money.

This year in association with Project Lyttelton and the Lyttelton Harbour Business Association we have also been able to secure funding from Recover Canterbury to produce new tourism maps for the area, create generic branding that can be used by all businesses and community events harbour wide, develop a harbour voucher scheme and get new rack cards made promoting our events, picnic places, Antarctic history, entertainment, hospitality opportunities, markets and heritage.

Your support will help us to achieve more. Our membership application form is attached to this edition of the Lyttelton Harbour Review. Your support will enable us to do more for you. We look forward to welcoming you back as members. For more information contact Wendy Everingham 328 9093 or email infocentre@lyttelton.net.nz about the lyttelton harbour review

Lyttelton Harbour Review is a community newsletter initiative developed by local Professionals real estate agent Lynnette Baird and Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre chairperson Wendy Everingham. The objective of the Lyttelton Harbour Review is to help keep local residents informed with what is going on in the wider Lyttelton Harbour community. Each week readers can read about community groups; businesses; events; and everything in between. If you have an event, topic, cause, or other, that you would like to share with the harbour community, then we would love to hear from you. Be heard, be seen, be informed - read it or offer it here.

Safer Harbour Communities

More Volunteers Needed for Community Watch

Maybe you have seen the Lyttelton-based Community Watch Patrol Car out and about in our harbourside communities? The volunteer drivers and their sidekicks have found that observing and being seen helps reduce crime and anti-social behaviour in Lyttelton and other communities around the harbour.

With more volunteers the Community Watch Patrol Car could be even more effective.

Volunteers can choose a time which suits them to go out in the patrol car for a four hour shift: day or night, weekdays or weekends. They always go in pairs. You can volunteer as a pair, or choose your patrol partner, or just see who you are rostered on with, a great way to get to know new people.

The patrol car is normally kept at the Lyttelton Police Station, but there is some flexibility about how it is used. Volunteers from the Diamond Harbour side travel free on the ferry to pick up the patrol car. Training and briefing are provided by Community Watch with support from local police staff. Potential volunteers are required to undergo a police security check, which is initiated through the Community Watch secretary, Alan Christie.

If this sound like something you would like to be part of, contact volunteer co-ordinator Pat Owen at 328 8182.

Project Lyttelton's New Initiative

Project Lyttelton is exploring the setting up of a social enterprise for the multiple purposes of increasing business activity in the town, providing rental space, building local resilience, connecting and marketing local skills and generating an income to enable the continued development of this community.

We would like to get some feedback from Review readers to help us formulate the direction we will take. If readers could answer some or all of the following questions, we would be delighted.

- What sort of businesses would you like to see, and would use, in Lyttelton? These could be retail, service or ...
- Would you be interested in leasing space? This space could be hot desks, offices, meeting space to shops.
- Would you be interested in sharing a portion of your particular work skills for a percentage in a consultancy business – say “Lyttelton Consulting”? How would this look for you?
- Would you be interested in considering investing in such an enterprise?
- Would you like to be part of a team steering this social enterprise idea?

We look forward to your response. Email your answers and ideas to margaret.jefferies@clear.net.nz

The Eastern Live in Lyttelton

Naval Point Club Saturday October 26

From February 2012 thru May 2013, Lyttelton folk furies The Eastern played 173 shows around New Zealand and Australia. As has been their want over the past six years this was nothing new; touring, playing, driving, is just what they do. It's the way they've kept the day jobs at bay and have managed to make a living singing songs for anyone who'll listen. It's this commitment to coming to play for old and new friends and fans alike that has seen them grow from a band of desperate chancers into one of New Zealand's most loved and respected bands.

Their last album 'Hope and Wire' debuted at #11 in the national charts, climbed to #2 in the New Zealand albums and stayed in the top ten for months after. It featured the APRA silver scroll final five finalist song 'State Houses by the River' and became the inspiration for TV3's upcoming Drama Series 'Hope and Wire' and was a finalist in the New Zealand country music album of the year awards. They've played everywhere from Stewart Island to Kaikohe and have toured with Steve Earle, Old Crow Medicine show amongst others and have opened for Fleetwood Mac on their last NZ tour.

All of that's well and good, but it's on the road where The Eastern fall into their own, everything else comes secondary to the shows they play and the people they meet along the way. It's this attitude which has endeared them to the hearts of many in New Zealand and beyond.

Supposedly off the road for the rest of 2013 to record their new record (due February 2014), they decided to shake off the rust for a short jaunt around both islands. Playing a few choice spots seemed like a swell idea to try out some new songs before they knuckle down and finish the aforementioned platter.

Joining them on the first run of four shows will be New Zealand icon and Warratah's front man Barry Saunders. Barry needs little introduction, being considered one of the country's foremost songwriters EVER and an old school road dog who is most at home sharing his formidable body of work with the good people of these shaky isles. Barry's sure to play classics such as 'Hands of my Heart' as well as new Warratahs and solo tracks alike.

Finishing up the short tour will be Lyttelton comrade Lindon Puffin. A rabid tourer like The Eastern and a wiley raconteur in his own right. Puffin will be serving up new songs and ones from his previous three records. Saunders and Puffin are lively, sharp and master songwriters both so The Eastern are thrilled to be sharing these shows with 'em!

The Handsome Family

Naval Point Club Wednesday October 23

The Handsome family-husband and wife duo, Brett and Rennie Sparks, along with drummer Mike Werner, are playing their brand of Americana at the Naval Point Club on Wednesday, October 23.

Critically acclaimed, they have released ten albums since 1994. The Handsome Family style is a blend of traditional country, bluegrass and murder ballads. Rennie's lyrics have a strong story telling element to them and are enhanced by Brett's music.

This is an amazing opportunity to catch an international act at the top of their game in the most intimate of venues. Not to be missed.

Ben Woolley > Second Hand Songs > 18 October 2013

Friday the eighteenth of October, a night to pencil in, a night to remember, a night that needs no night lights for your eyes and ears and hearts are set to be kept alight by the kind and wise voices, the soft hum-strumming of Flora Knight and Ben Woolley. A myriad of tunes waits in the wings, second hand old time music for the tired heart, and Carter Family songs for the aching bones. Three part harmonies for harmony's sake, fiddle, banjo and beautiful boots. Ring ins from the angel spoken Hannah Harding and undisclosed others. So come one come all to Tommy Chang's on London Street and wait quiet for the music; sing loudly in the wings. Entry by modest donation.

c'mon get involved

Lyttelton is known for its culture of volunteer activity and community participation. If you have ever had the thought that you would like to be more involved in the local community, but you are not sure where to go, or who to talk to? Start by having a conversation with the team at the Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre, as they can give you some advice on the many types of great volunteer organisations here in Lyttelton. If you are passionate about elderly care, sustainability, youth culture, harbour activities, heritage, radio, business development, fundraising, or just about anything - then there is a group who would love for you to be involved!

Christchurch Retaining Walls Group

A website has been set up as a point of contact for people in Christchurch who are having issues with retaining walls. If you would like to join the group, you can visit their web site and complete an online contact form. The only criteria for joining the group, is that you have a retaining wall of any type protecting your property, or which is your responsibility. The purpose of our group is to share information regarding EQC retaining wall settlements. For more information read some of the stories on the website. And if you know how EQC are calculating Indemnity Value, please get in touch! www.retainingwalls.kiwi.nz

Lyttelton Classic Boat Parade and Regatta

Sunday 3 November 2013

This event is not a competitive event with prizes for races or for individual boats. It is an opportunity for classic and replica boats to participate in a sail-past parade and enjoy an afternoon on the water which will be a spectacle for participants and spectators alike. Best viewing for spectators in the vicinity of the Diamond Harbour Wharf and along the adjacent hillside. Family and supporters are welcome to join us for the social gathering on the tug Lyttelton at the end of the afternoon.

Programme

The final details of the programme will be subject to weather conditions on the day. There is no postponement date if weather conditions cause cancellation. If required there will be a cancellation notice emailed to all registered participants.

- 12:30 Final boat Registrations close at Naval Point. Sign in and safety checks. Boats launching from public slipway and Naval Point Club to sail to Diamond Harbour with RIB escort for smaller boats.
- 14:00 Parade of Boats in Diamond Harbour.
- 14:40 Event One: Start for small yachts and powered craft. Sail to Church Bay, complete a set task and sail back to Naval Point.
- 14:50 Event Two: Start for keel boats. Course from Diamond Harbour to Parsons Rock, to Pile Light and finish at Diamond Harbour. Raft up at Diamond Harbour or moor nearby ready for the social function.
- 17:00 Tug Lyttelton departs for Diamond Harbour providing a ferry service to Diamond Harbour for supporters and small boat sailors as required. Transport will be arranged from Naval Point to tug berth and return. BBQ on board tug until 1900.
- 19:00 Tug departs for return to Lyttelton.

Registrations should be received by 31 October. The full programme details with Parade arrangements along with Sailing Instructions will be issued on receipt of completed registration. Early registrations will be appreciated and help us to finalise the programme and facilities. The Registration Fee for each participating boat is $30.00. Friends or supporters wishing to travel to Diamond Harbour and return - $10 per head or $20 per family collected on board.

Chance to help run our local reserves

You probably know that there are several reserves close to Lyttelton.

One is Whaka Raupo, on the west of the town, 87 ha, between the Bridle Path and Cass Bay.

Another is Urumau, 26 ha, on the east side, above Foster and Gilmour Terraces. You may have walked there.

The City Council owns these two reserves and an elected committee of interested residents manages them. The Committee is a sub-committee of the Lyttelton/Mount Herbert Community Board and is assisted by Council staff.

An election to the Committee is going to be held on the 11th November this year.

There is a lot of work involved in keeping the reserves usable by residents. The Committee makes policy for the reserves; organises and carries out weed control; works with schools and residents to forms walking and mountain bike tracks; replant the reserves; undertakes animal pest control; recreation opportunities and works towards enhancement of these natural spaces and local biodiversity.

If you are interested come along to the Lyttelton Club, corner Dublin and Winchester Street, Lyttelton, 7.30 pm 11th November 2013.

Don't think that you have to campaign or make a speech. At the meeting you can nominate yourself or someone else.

We try to accommodate everyone who is interested. Membership of the Committee is for three years.

We have about six meetings a year and occasional work parties.

If you are only interested in doing practical things like weed busting or planting, not in attending meetings, come along and/or let us know.

“Capture the Magic”

Banks Peninsula Walking Festival Photographic Competition Entries close on 22 November 2013

The Rod Donald Banks Peninsula Trust aims to get more people engaging with and appreciating the special landscape, environment, culture and heritage of beautiful Banks Peninsula. As part of its work the Trust is developing new walking opportunities on the Peninsula and documenting all the walks with comprehensive track maps for visitor centres, brochures and web information.

The Trust is now seeking your help to build up a fantastic image library to capture the magic of exploring Banks Peninsula on foot. We invite you to submit photos showing people of all ages, including children and young people, enjoying themselves in a natural way as they explore its landscape, environment and special places on foot.

You may enter as many photos as you like in our Photographic Competition run in conjunction with the Banks Peninsula Walking Festival. Our judges will review them and best ones will be selected for use on our website or published materials. The top three photographers will be awarded with these great prizes:

First Prize

Tickets for two on the four day private Banks Peninsula Track

Second Prizes

“Plant life on Banks Peninsula” by Hugh Wilson and “Shelter from the Storm”, by Rob Brown, Shaun Barnett and Geoff Spearpoint

The photographic competition is open to all amateur and professional photographers. See conditions and entry form overleaf.

Terms & Conditions of Entry

The competition is run by the Rod Donald Banks Peninsula Trust. By submitting an entry in the competition, entrants agree to the following terms and conditions.

1. All entries must have been photographed on Banks Peninsula.
2. All entries must include people engaged in walking or related activities (such as picnicking). Judges will be looking for natural shots rather than posed groups.
3. Entries must be digital (jpg, tif, bmp formats) and are to be submitted by email to secretary@roddonaldtrust.co.nz or on a CD mailed to Rod Donald Banks Peninsula Trust, PO Box 5, Little River, 7581.
4. Entries are to be received no later than 5pm on Friday 22 November 2013.
5. The entrant must be the sole owner and author of copyright and all other intellectual property in the material submitted to the judges. Each entrant agrees to indemnify Rod Donald Banks Peninsula Trust from and against all claims, demands, expenses and damages that Rod Donald Banks Peninsula Trust may face or incur as a result of any breach of this condition.
6. Copyright on photographs submitted will transfer to the Rod Donald Banks Peninsula Trust. The Trust will include them in its photographic library and may use them, without any payment obligation, on its website, in materials published by the Trust, and share them with partner organisations for the purposes of promoting walking, the environment and sustainable management of Banks Peninsula. The name of the photographer will be credited.
7. The judges will be appointed by the Rod Donald Banks Peninsula Trust. The judges' decisions will be final and not subject to appeal or correspondence. Results will be announced in early December 2013.

Please ensure you fill in and include the details below when you submit your entry:

Living in a Warmer World

Public Lecture by Dr Jim Salinger
Auckland Climate Scientist, 2012 Lorrey Lokey
Visiting Professor, Stanford University

Tuesday 29 October 2013, Undercroft 101, 5pm

Dr Salinger will be speaking on his new book,
'Living in a Warmer World':

- bringing together the world's leading scientists and showing how a changing climate will affect us.
- highlighting new information on how a hotter planet is affecting our food supplies, agriculture, public health and more.
- examining the political and ethical issues around making changes on national and global scales.

Dr Jim Salinger CRSNZ holds a PhD in climate science from Victoria University of Wellington. Jim is a prolific communicator and has received several awards, including the Nobel Peace Prize in 2007 awarded to the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change to which he was a contributor, and other honours for the understanding of climate change. Copies of the book will be available on the night.
