New Building for Bakery Well Done Scotts

The wait is over just shy of four years and four shifts later. The Lyttelton Bakery is now in its permanent brand new purpose built home.

The journey to the finish line has been a difficult one. The Council has been horrendous, Ian has had to deal with lost emails, delays, double handling, triple copies and valuer's waiting at the front door when they were due to open (so rates could be calculated). "It would be nice if their enthusiasm ran at the same pace for permit approval" says Ian Scott (owner/baker). His greatest wish for the rebuild is that these difficulties will not encompass everyone else trying to start again.

Having remained intact while working in a portacom building for three years and eight months and dealing with the ups and downs of the re-building process, it is marvellous for him and the staff to be in a sparkling new spacious building. With the addition of a high spec apartment upstairs (ready to be rented) Ian Scott could not be happier.

His wonderful staff also share his enthusiasm, as they have followed him loyally and he has added an in-house barrister selling Underground Coffee to complement the bakeries huge array of delicious daily fresh baked goods made in the new in house bake house. Pies, buns, filled rolls, cakes and slices are just a few of the delightful goodies on offer. The bakery's aim to cater for the good people of Lyttelton: Workers, residents and visitors with fresh baked goods at bakery prices within a cafe environment.

Ian has been a baker for 36 years, over that time he has owned 9 bakeries all over Christchurch, but Lyttelton and the community here have really found a place in his heart and the reason why he still remains there.

With his 36 years of experience he has trained 10 apprentices and although his two sons Joshua (a builder) and Liam (in the Air Force) never wanted to sign up for the bakery trade, his daughter Bree decided she would like to follow in her dad's footsteps and has been by far, his best apprentice. Having started just before the earthquake, then finishing off her three plus years trade in the portacom (a space not much bigger than a caravan) This alone has been a mighty achievement and no easy feat and her dad is justifiably proud as she not only came through her trade with flying colours but went on to win Young Bread Baker of the Year 2014.

This year Bree has returned to prove to the judges that she has what it takes to represent New Zealand at the prestigious Australia LA Judge Award in Sydney, where she was invited to be the only representative from New Zealand to compete this year in May. Over three days Bree and the Australian candidates will be tested on practical baking skills, technical knowledge, presentation and communication skills.

Should you be passing by the bakery visiting Lyttelton or waiting for the ferry pop in and wish her all the best for May and check out the new space she has to work in. We hope you love it as much as Bree, her dad and her co-workers do.

Knowing your Neighbours Is a Piece of Cake

The Lyttelton Harbour Timebank was fortunate to secure some additional grant funding from the New Zealand Red Cross. One of the projects to benefit is a new initiative that seeks to link neighbours closer together.

Pulling together some existing community resources kindly developed by the Neighbourhood Project Wendy Everingham has started asking Timebankers to connect with their four closest neighbours. "It's a very low key simple project", she said.

She distributes five neighbourhood cards to willing Timebank members who then knock on the doors of their four closest neighbours. If the neighbour agrees name and phone details are shared on the cards. Each neighbour gets a card and this information is only shared with the five neighbours.

"For many of us we know from our earthquake experiences that our neighbours were our first point contact if we needed anything. This project seeks to reinforce that" she said.

As well as a Neighbourhood contact card everyone will also receive a letter with some handy contact numbers if you need wider support and or information.

This initiative has just commenced so don't be surprised if your neighbour knocks on your door with these neighbourhood cards. If you would like further information call Wendy Everingham at the Lyttelton Harbour Timebank 328 9i093. This initiative is only for Lyttelton residents who live as far as Corsair Bay. All the other Harbour communities have their own detailed neighbourhood directories.

Over the next 2 weeks we will profile a handful of contributing artists in the review. This week we profile Hannah Beehres, Lorelei Jenner and Sheila Brown.

Hannah Beehres has a professional practice spanning fifteen years. She has shown in galleries and festivals in New Zealand and around the world. Hannah gained a Bachelor of Fine Arts from the University of Canterbury. She has been an Olivia Spencer Bower Trust Award Recipient and most recently Artist in Residence at Scott Base, Antarctica. Her often playful work examines notions of magic, often using the exotic and the sublime in her explorations of the natural world. She is a storyteller and a collector, and her cabinet of curiosities reflects her sense of wonder while suggesting that things may not be as they seem. Hannah Beehres is represented by Jonathan Smart Gallery in Christchurch.

Lorelei Jenner is a local Lyttelton artist who has been regularly exhibiting her paintings nationally for the last ten years. She is a published writer and illustrator.

Lorelei has a diploma in Craft Design from the Christchurch Polytechnic. She also says she has been living in Lyttelton for 3 years and bought a house here last year. She loves living here and being a part of the community. Her style is stylish and stunning with a touch of whimsy.

Sheila Brown's art is inspired by nature. She was born in the United States and spent her holidays in New Hampshire where she spent hours painting in watercolours. Despite being offered an arts scholarship on leaving high school she chose to pursue a career in landscape design. She is married to a kiwi and has two sons. Now 20 years later she is a practising full time artist. Sheila has always lived by the coast and has been influenced and inspired by this environment. In 2005 she was awarded the open award at the Invercargill Licensing Trust Award Exhibition. She has been a full time artist since then working in oils, acrylics, water colours and mixed media. Sheila's use of the seagull in her work is inspired by the lone image of two seagulls on the beach. "The seagull is a beautiful bird, just look at all the colours. For me seagulls represent freedom, summer and peace."

Representation Review.

An Interesting Conversation

Approximately every six years local authorities need to re-look at how voters elect local body representatives. Everything can be reviewed from the size of wards, to number of councillors per ward/district and whether you have community boards and if you do how many you have their boundaries etc. The aim is to achieve fair and effective representation for individuals and communities. Interestingly the average ward size for New Zealand is 11,500. In Christchurch the average ward size is 27,435!

In our area due to amalgamation with the Banks Peninsula District Council the Banks Peninsula Ward is much smaller than the city electorates. Our ward has just over 8000 people with two community boards and one councillor and has been viewed as an isolated community. Isolated community status has meant that our electorate is allowed to be much smaller than other wards and this is not viewed as being unfair because there are other factors at play such as the size of the electorate. This status however is not necessarily a given into the future.

At a public meeting the community attendees were asked their thoughts on how the electorate should look. Everyone seemed to think that two community boards and one councillor worked well for us. The conversation also looked at some "what ifs". If our electorate was viewed as too small and no longer an isolated community what could be done to make it fairer?

We looked at who our communities of interest were. Everyone felt the Banks Peninsula should remain intact as an area of interest because we are a series of small rural townships with strong relationships. If electorate size however is an issue we looked at other communities of interest. Our group felt our closest neighbours on the other side of the port hills from Sumner to Redcliffs were most like us. Maybe our electorate could encompass them and maybe we could have another community board to represent their interests well?

Discussions like this one are continuing all around the City. In April the council needs to make a recommendation of what the new representation should look like. A proposal will be made and then we'll get the chance to comment via hearings. At the end of the year the new structure should be known in time for the 2016 elections.

Come and check out the new Toastmasters Group

We had a very successful demonstration meeting of Toastmasters on 28 February. We had two really good guest speakers who inspired and entertained us all. There were lots of experienced toastmasters in attendance and quite a few visitors.

We have just had our second meeting and have 8 members confirmed, with only 12 more to enable us to charter our club. There was a lot of brainstorming and fantastic ideas shared at the meeting on 14 March. New members recognised the benefit especially to business people in knowing how to communicate well. Being able to get your point across in a clear, credible and organised way can make all the difference to success in life, business and personally.

Toastmasters is all about communication and leadership training in a warm, supportive and fun atmosphere. It is a "learn by doing" concept that works really well. Theory is great, but nothing can beat putting it into action. This is how we learn in Toastmasters, and we all support each other to reach our potential and improve.

We now have a name: Bay Harbour Toastmasters and at present we are meeting every 2nd and 4th Saturday in the Stage Room at the DH Community Centre, starting at 1.30pm going through until 3.30pm. Please come along and sit in on a meeting to find out what it's all about and how Toastmasters can make a difference to your future. You will be sure of a very warm welcome.

When it's time to speak up, do you clam up?

Then you need Toastmasters. Joining Toastmasters can be your first step towards being able to speak confidently in public. Bay Harbour Toastmasters meet every 2nd and 4th Saturday.

Come along and find out how you can improve your potential, grow your confidence and become a better communicator and leader, whilst making new friends.

The Lonesome Pine Specials with Archer TOUR (2)

'The Lonesome Pine Specials' are an old-time music revival. They bring songs steeped in the musical tradition of Southern Americana. They lift their voices with an unadorned purity reminiscent of The Carter Family, and with an honest love of simplicity, they weave their banjo's and fiddle's with songs of Appalachia and tunes for the old dance halls. At times you will want to throw your feet to the boards and swing your partner beneath the stars and at others you will want to be still and listen to every lonesome lyric.

Indeed it would be easy to mistake the 'Lonesome Pine Specials' for native Virginians, that is until you see them perform live, they are in fact a rambunctious trio from the South Island of New Zealand. Their performances are humorous and heart felt, and although their love for music runs deep they do not approach it with sombre severity but rather a playful reverie.

The Lonesome Pine Specials is FLORA KNIGHT, fiddle player and expat of Lyttelton's hard travelling string band 'The Eastern', alongside HANNAH HARDING, the brains and beauty behind New Zealand's latest prized musical child Aldous Harding, with BEN WOOLLEY, the humble multi instrumentalist and right hand man for acclaimed globe trotting touring and recording artists, Delaney Davidson, Tami Neilson, Marlon Williams and Devilish Mary & The Holy Rollers.

It is not surprising to learn that the trio first collaborated musically in Port Lyttelton, where until recently they all lived. Music has since taken them on many respective journeys, both far and wide, however they are bonded by firm friendship and a creative affinity so it is only natural that they have decided to reunite for a tour of their homelands. A tour, spanning thirty shows that will see them travel the length and breadth of New Zealand, all the way from the deep south to The Northlands.

'The Lonesome Pine Specials' have called upon their true friend and Australian Bush Poet 'Archer' to create a dynamic and potent live show for their New Zealand tour.

ARCHER, according to Archer, is an old-time sing song man. Others note that he's an 'outsider'. He lives out there for sure, somewhere, no fixed address, anywheres or nowhere. Archer is hard to pin down.

Born in North Carolina, just short an hour from the Appalachian mountains, he's found a roaming home in Australia. He busks, works on farms, labours, and at present he hails from deep in the Victorian countryside. He plucks guitar, writes and plays country bush blues, and every new song from Archer sounds 100 years old.

Archer's music is stripped back and simple, sparse. There is no adornment, so all you get is the song and his big, booming voice. His influences skip back generations to the traditional country singers. Tex Morton, Smilin' Billy Blinkhorn, guys like that. He learned to sing up North, with the Pacific Islanders.

He's a musical drifter, picking up stories wherever he goes, polishing them into honest songs. There's a sense with Archer that his music exists outside of time. Which makes sense, because he exists outside of place.

Last year saw ARCHER sign to Underground Melbourne vinyl label Pound Records and released his debut LP 'Old Time Sing Song Man'. ARCHER also played a string of "best-on-ground" performances at Australian Festivals including Golden Plains, Mullumbimby, Queenscliff, Wave Rock and amongst others..

Provided the trucks and trains and boats slow down enough for him to jump on – ARCHER is pleased to announce he will be releasing and touring his album on a massive tour across NZ this March and April.

This is a show not to be missed, bring all of your friends and family and throw caution to the wind for a night of dance and song with 'Archer' and 'The lonesome Pine Specials'.

Council seeks feedback on Long Term Plan

Christchurch City Council today launched a six week campaign to get public feedback on its Long Term Plan.

Deputy Mayor Vicki Buck says it is vital that residents take the opportunity to have a say over the future of the city during the public consultation period which ends at midday on Tuesday, 28 April.

"This is potentially Christchurch's most important budget ever. The Long Term Plan consultation document includes a proposal to sell $750 million worth of our commercial assets to help cover a $1.2 billion funding shortfall and we need to know whether we have residents' backing to take this step.

"The Plan also includes a major shift to cycling and public transport, as well as changes to the Central City and a lot of new and replacement community facilities. We want to know if what's proposed is right for you, your family and your neighbourhood.

"We've tried to make it really easy to make a submission so you can do it online, or put pen to paper. We're holding public meetings across the city over the coming weeks so residents can talk through the issues with elected members, and we'll welcome tweets or discussion via comments on the Council's Facebook page."

The Council is also running "Mayor in the Chair" sessions where members of the public can sit in the Mayor's chair in the Council Chamber and talk to Councillors about the Long Term Plan.

Deputy Mayor Buck says the "Mayor in the Chair" sessions will run from midday until 2pm on Wednesday, 25 March, Friday, 27 March and Wednesday, 1 April.

"It'll be very relaxed, there's no need to book, and councillors will be come along to hear what you have to say during your turn in the 'hot seat.' "

How to have your say on the Long Term Plan 2015-25

- go online at www.ccc.govt.nz/LTP to make a submission
- present a petition in support of a submission
- fill out submission forms available from Council libraries and service centres, or by phoning 03 941 8999 or 0800 800 169
- speak to elected members at community meetings or during "Mayor in the Chair" sessions
- share your views on the Christchurch City Council Facebook page which will regularly introduce new LTP topics for discussion
- tweet with #CCCLTP

Comments made on Facebook, Twitter, at community meetings and during "Mayor in the Chair" will be included in the feedback presented to the Council, but they will not be treated as formal submissions.

Councillors will consider all the submissions and comments before they adopt the Plan in June 2015.

- Central City - Civic Offices, 53 Hereford Street, Wednesday 25 March, 12 - 1.30pm
- Lyttelton - Top Club, 23 Dublin Street, Monday 30 March, 6 - 7.30pm

Naval Point Club News

Building Update

The Naval Point Marine and Rescue Centre Building Committee has been busy progressing the development of a new building. The combined Naval Point/Coastguard facility is intended to replace the earthquake damaged buildings occupied by both organisations and provide a substantial new facility for the benefit of the whole community.

There are several key steps to be completed to progress this ambitious project.

Firstly the Naval Point Club and the Coastguard need to create a combined entity, a Trust, which will seek to raise funds, then develop and own the new facility. This is to be called The Naval Point Marine and Rescue Centre Trust.

A fundraising feasibility study will then be undertaken to develop a plan and strategy to raise the donations we will need. Identifying the individuals and organisations that both share in our vision and have the means to make it a reality will be a key part of this process. Following this fundraising can begin in earnest.

In the meantime there is much planning to do. The NPMRC Committee is engaging with the Christchurch City Council to help them develop a plan for the Naval Point recreational marine area. This is quite a task as Council staff grapple with the complexities of the site including rock fall hazards, contamination, the marine environment and the specifics of recreational marine and other community requirements. As the key stakeholders it will be essential that we continue to work closely with them to ensure an overall plan for the area, including land and sea based facilities, is put in place for the future. Important decisions need to be made including the location of the new NPMRC building. In addition to this the Earthquake Recovery Plan for the area must also align with and seek to achieve the objectives of the Club, Coastguard and the wider community. This consultation and engagement will need to be a key focus and the input and assistance on this from members will be essential.

On Monday night the NPMRC Committee met with architect David Hill, engineer Warren Lewis and representatives of building firm Leighs Construction. Leighs have provided a preliminary costing estimate based on the David Hill design and Warren Lewis' preliminary engineering advice. This will provide the basis for the Fundraising Feasibility Study. All felt that this early engagement is essential to ensure good planning and design decisions are made to ensure the facility will be built as cost effective as possible. We are very grateful for their assistance.

If someone in Lyttelton has lost a couple of coloured sheep, they appear to be happily grazing the Bridle path track. ## Community receives Lyttelton Port Company's INFORMATION package

Following an extensive consultation process, Lyttelton Port of Christchurch (LPC) provided its four-volume information package outlining the assessment of effects of the Port Lyttelton Plan (PLP) to Environment Canterbury (ECan) in late 2014.

The community can access the information in hard copy at local libraries, the Lyttelton Information Centre, and Port Talk in London Street as well as online.

LPC Environmental Manager Kim Kelleher presented the information to Christchurch City Councillor for Banks Peninsula Andrew Turner, who commended LPC for making the information easily available.

"I have always been an advocate for the community being well informed of this Plan. We live and breathe the developments at the Port and decisions made today will have a large effect on future generations. It's great that LPC is involving the community in this process," said Mr Turner.

The PLP outlines how the Port can be rebuilt and enhanced to efficiently and sustainably cater for Canterbury's freight demands, as well as opening up waterfront space for community access. The information package includes comprehensive effects assessments, LPC's proposed changes to regulatory documents and feedback from the extensive communications and engagement process.

"LPC operates within an active and interested community and we appreciate its contribution of ideas and consideration of these long term plans," said Peter Davie LPC Chief Executive. "Making this information publicly available is part of an open and transparent process and we want to make sure local people know where to access the information."

In December 2014 LPC handed over the information package to Environment Canterbury (ECan) who are now preparing a preliminary draft Lyttelton Port Recovery Plan. ECan will start its own formal community consultation process in April. Public submissions can be made during this time and ECan staff will be available at the Port Talk site on the corner of London and Oxford Streets.

How we lost track of real happiness and where to find it now; What we know about real well-being; The practice of happiness (or, How you can get some); Sustainable happiness and the beloved community

This book is an easy read, good for dipping in and out of when you have a few minutes of spare time and would like some inspiration, or encouragement, or stimulation, in a wide variety of writing styles based on real experiences and research. It's mostly very down-to-earth and practical. The focus is on improving your personal life, your family's life, your community, and society at large.

Many LIFT readers will find some familiar material here, but there is still plenty to learn from. I especially enjoyed 'The movement to live simply is older than you think' by Roman Krznaric; 'Why everyone is happier in more equitable societies' an interview with Richard Wilkinson; 'The story of your gift' by Puanani Burgess; 'The hidden treasures in your neighborhood' by John McKnight and Peter Block.

What's happening with Lyttelton Port?

The rebuild of Lyttelton Port will come one step closer next month (April).

Environment Canterbury's preliminary draft Lyttelton Port Recovery Plan is due to go out for public consultation from mid-April.

The Minister for Canterbury Earthquake Recovery directed the Lyttelton Port Company Limited to provide information to Environment Canterbury to help it prepare a Lyttelton Port Recovery Plan to aid the Port's recovery and rebuild.

The Plan will be available on Environment Canterbury's website at www.ecan.govt.nz/port from early April, with public consultation due to run from mid-April to mid-May.

During this time you can drop into Environment Canterbury's portacabin on the corner of Oxford and London Streets in Lyttelton on Thursdays between 10am-2pm or Saturdays 10am-12:30pm to ask any questions you have about the Plan or find out more about it.

Environment Canterbury will hold a public meeting on Tuesday April 14 from 7:30pm – 9:30pm at the Naval Point Yacht Club. This will cover what's in the Plan, and Environment Canterbury staff will be able to answer any questions you have about it and provide some assistance with the submission process.

WATER

Water is trickling through my hands, tinkling the air as it ripples downstream through quiet bushes. Tranquility hovers like the dragonfly of past dreams. Pure, the stream meanders from its mountain source along exposed plains, through steep gullies, then falling into secret pools. It keeps flowing, widening from other streams until it accepts the invitation of the expansive sea, splashing into wider domains.

It is rare to feel such joy as I sit on a rock gazing into clear depths, protected and sanctified. Sanctified by a vision that began like the stream from its source, flowing into the creation of a national park, a wild haven. The water soothes and cools as it swirls around my feet, its music mesmerising. Light shifts, reflecting the slow dance. Yet I struggle to stay present to such a precious moment.

My mind keeps drifting away to images of other streams, other rivers. Rivers without such protection, the once bright sheen of their braided tracteries now a mere trickle hidden amongst grey shingle. Streams that stagnate, unable to evade the sluggish seep of effluent dulling their journey to the sea. On their banks, water quality notices spring up like meters. No swimming, or you and your children will pay with your health.

How and when did the perception shift? The joy of surrender amidst the miracle of life usurped by the need to separate and classify, so that water's fluidity can be solidified solely into an amenity?

Reverence usurped by careless disregard, or careful measuring of 'acceptable' pollution levels? How to avoid being so captured by current justifications, that inclusive balance is lost and freedom disappears?

Yet here in this protected place, water flows pristine. Wild as always, it continues to flow freely past and through my thoughts, cleansing them of strain, shifting my own perception once more. Images from Emoto's The Secret Life of Water spring into my mind, bringing visions of the exquisite crystals water forms when exposed to words of love and gratitude.

Joy and presence return, and I send my love to water everywhere.

PORT LEVY REGATTA.

Once again Port Levy was favoured with beautiful weather on the occasion of its Annual Regatta, held yesterday, in fact, the pretty little bay seems to bear a charm in this respect. There is no record of a regatta there ever having been held in bad weather. The annual migration of yachts and motor boats from Lyttelton, New Brighton, and Redcliffe to Port Levy was this year larger than ever, and there were about 70 craft of all descriptions moored off the Masei village. Then the excursionists numbered hundreds. Both the Cygnets and the John Anderson were full, and further embarkation was stopped by the Customs officials within a few minutes of the arrival of the 8.55 a.m. train from Christchurch, and the John Anderson returned later for a second load. The arrival of the two steamers at Port Levy was not without incident, for, owing to the low spring tide, both vessels grounded, the John Anderson close in to the beach, and the Cygnets well out in the bay. However, the lifeboats were quickly lowered, and the "shipwrecked" passengers were ferried ashore.

The arrangements for the Regatta were much better than usual, there being plenty of officials available. The starting of the sailing races could be much improved by the use of the "cruze" method, as adopted by the Lyttelton Club, thus giving the yachts a better indication of the nearness of the starting time. A new course was laid out, and was a decided improvement. The regatta officials were—Commodore, Prof. R. J. Scott; vice-commodore, Mr A. Solomon; rear commodore, Mr H. Field; judges and timekeepers, Messrs G. Whitford, G. Durham, J. McCall, —, Robinson, D. Lilly; starter, Mr H. H. McIntosh; handicappers, Messrs H. H. McIntosh, J. Smith, G. Whitford, —, Barna, J. McCall, G. Durham; committee, Messrs H. A. Logan (chairman), W. Toomey, T. Harkness, W. Bradley, D. Pickles, J. Nicholson, C. Woodward, A. Beard, D. Cowan, R. Solomon; secretary, Mr E. J. Tregeathan.

Results were as follows:—

Motor Boat Race, under 6 knots—Pearl (E. J. Tregeathan), 10min, 1; Sweet One (H. Solomon), ser. 2.

Motor Boat Race, over 6 knots—Tot Tot (H. Grennell), 10min, 1; Amari (W. Nicholson), 10min, 2; Shamrock (—, Churchhill), 10min, 3; Seamus (L. Nell), ser. 4. Patari (G. Barnes) 10min, Navas (L. Harpe) 10min, Now-and-Then (—, Beecroft) 10min, Mianahaka (W. D. Lester) 10min also started. Won by two minutes.

Sailing—Yachts under 18 feet (distance 4 miles): Kivi (J. Abernethy), 10min, 1; Milda (L. Sinclair), 10min, 2; Seamus (C. Allen), 10min, 3; Linnel (S. Sinclair, jun.), 9min, 4. Arli (G. G. Andrews) ser. Lapwing (P. Pidgeon) 9min, Boojice (C. G. Meuk) 10min, Navas (P. Morrison) 10min, Tot (—, Eycher) 10min also started. Arli took the lead from the start, and was followed round the first buoy by Linnel. Then Arli turned a buoy set for the motor boat race instead of rounding for the island buoy. Discovering her mistake, the wratch boat put about, and turned the right buoy, but the incident probably cost her the race. Tot retired after the first round.

Over 18ft (distance 9 miles)—Shadow (A. Henderson), 25min, 1; Ararat (Bowen), 40 min, 2; Ania (W. A. Miller), 50min, 3; Waterlelie (W. Toomey), 27min, 4; Waima (U. D. Harkness), ser. 5. Waim (U. Dickie) 20min, Pastime (M. J. Miller) 25min, Te Arai (A. Ronald) 10min, Waterlelie (W. Toomey) 22min, Kia Ora (J. H. Collins) 74 min, also started. Ararat crossed the line first, and led round the first buoy, followed by Waima and Te Arai. Kia Ora, which was still in order, was unfortunate enough to earn disqualification by fouling the buoy, and retired. The wind in the later stage of the race became patchy, and the boats were straggled out. Pastime was about four minutes late in starting, but overhauled some of the smaller craft.

Sculling Race—D. Durham 1, T. Harkness 2. Six started.

Life Saving, motor boats—C. Barnes (Patari) 1, W. Nicholson (Amari) 2, —, Beecroft (Now-and-Then) 3.

Land Sports.

100 Yards Campers' Handicap—First heat: G. Watson 1, W. Scott 2. Second heat: R. Hannhall 1, G. Everest 2. Third heat: T. Davis 1, H. Tuki 2. Final: W. Scott 1, Watson and Davis (dead heat) 2. Committee's Race—D. Kildaro 1, E. J. Tregeathan 2.

Boys under 12—Wyman 1, Ansell 2. Boys 10 and under—Nolan 1, Pascoe 2. Girls under 16—Harkness 1, Manaria 2. Single Women's Race—Miss Grennell 1, Miss Carter 2.

Girls under 7—Eva Miller 1, J. Grennell 2. Boys under 8—P. Cairns and L. Miller (equal) 1.

Baby Show, under 9 months—Mrs K. J. Tregeathan's girl 1, Mrs H. Grennell's girl 2.

Baby Show, under 18 months—Mrs Griffin 1, Mrs Kure 2.

The proceeds of the regatta will go to the fund for the new hall, which is now nearing completion. A dance was held in the hall in the evening.

Port Hills Rock Stabilisation

MOBIL LYTTELTON WOOLSTON PIPELINE - ROCKFALL RISK MITIGATION & LIZARD RELOCATION

Rock stabilisation and lizard relocation work will be carried out on eight sites below the Summit Road, in the Whakaraupo and Mt Cavendish Reserves affecting the top parts of the Bridal Path Track for a period of approximately 2.5 days. Members of the public are asked to not to stop in the area, due to a risk of rockfall & other hazards.

Of the eight sites, only three are directly uphill from the walking track and these are on the Lyttelton side of the hill, approximately 100m below the Summit Road. Only one of these will require a temporary track closure, approximately 5-10 minutes. Please refer to attached aerial photograph.

Estimated start date is Tuesday 31st March 2015 - the timeframe may be subject to change but will be advised. You may hear the sound of drilling and explosives as part of this work. Please follow the instructions of our site personnel and warning signs.

Please note that the temporary closure of the upper part of Bridal Path Track on the Lyttelton side will only be necessary to stop track users for the time it takes to blast one boulder. The temporary track closure will be approximately 5-10 minutes.

We look forward to your support through this part of the earthquake remediation works.
