Review Creators

Lyttelton Harbour Review is a 100% voluntary community newsletter initiative developed after the February 2011 earthquake. It's a Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre initiative produced by Chairperson Wendy Everingham and Committee Member Jenny-Lee Love.

The objective of the Lyttelton Harbour Review is to help keep local residents informed with what is going on in the wider Lyttelton Harbour community. Of course the success of the Lyttelton Harbour Review could not be possible without the ongoing support and enthusiasm from the wider community.

A big thank you goes out to everyone who sends information; is willing to be interviewed or lets us know what might be happening in the neighbourhood. The Lyttelton Harbour Review project would not be possible without you all.

If you have an event, topic, sport announcement, fundraiser or cause that you would like to share with the harbour community, then Wendy or Jenny-Lee would love to hear from you:

Community Energy Action (CEA) has worked in many partnerships over the years, one of which has been the Healthy Homes program, helping kiwi families keep warm and healthy in their homes by providing free insulation, heating, advice and recycled thermally lined curtains.

The programme which started in late 2011 and finished late 2014, was a collaboration between CEA, the Canterbury District Health Board (CDHB), the Energy Efficiency Conservation Authority (EECA) and Environment Canterbury (ECAN), with funding contributed by Orion and MainPower.

The Healthy Homes program proposed that insulating homes, therefore making them warmer, drier and healthier, would have a positive effect on the health of the residents, particularly those who had been hospitalised with cold related health issues prior to the programme.

CEA has provided over 1500 insulation installations from 2011 to 2014. Of those, research conducted on 900 of the highest health needs patients shows that nearly 30% of those patients remained out of hospital, after CEA interventions. This resulted in an overall reduction in hospital bed days and contributed to savings for the CDHB's resources of nearly one million dollars.

Both CEA and the CDHB are delighted with the results of this program. Chief Executive of CEA, Caroline Shone says "the program was extremely successful for the community, and whilst the cost of insulation is a one off, the benefits last for years. These results shows how successful collaborative partnerships can be. However, despite this great work, we estimate that there are still 30,000-50,000 low income homes with inadequate or no insulation in Canterbury alone. A warm, dry house is critical to the mental and physical health of New Zealanders, as well as benefitting community resources".

Funding for free insulation through EECA'S Warm Up New Zealand Program is still available, however only until June.

CEA provides subsidies for insulation, heating assistance, free recycled curtains and energy efficiency advice for all in Canterbury. Call 0800 GET WARM, or visit www.cea.co.nz to find out more. Conditions apply.

Open Day

Lyttelton Primary School

Many members of our community took the opportunity to visit Lyttelton Primary School on a special Open Day for the public on May 8th. Past pupils, families, friends, teachers, board members and students were there in a very well supported event.

People marvelled at the wonderful new facilities and many people commented on how amazing the school was and how much things had changed since they were at school.

What's happening at Collett's Corner, Lyttelton?

Lyttelton Community has been lucky to have the interim use of a large piece of vacant land where the Empire Hotel and Pharmacy used to stand. This area was known in the past as Collett's Corner, after the chemist J. B. Collett, whose descendants still live in the area.

The current owner, Camia Young, is the founder of XCHC (Exchange Christchurch) in Waltham, described as "a place to cultivate a creative ecology by supporting people to develop their creative self." Her dream for the site is to create a building with the local community. This will be different than other developments: instead of relying on private property developers and the Council to build the town centre, this will be an opportunity for people to be directly involved in creating and investing in a building they want. It will be a multi-use building where local people will have the opportunity to invest in their town centre's commercial real estate at the same time as have a say in what is built. The aim is to create buildings in our local centres that respond to long term visions of what kind of places we want to live in and what kind of places we want to create for our children. The community will be invited to conversations starting sometime in the next year.

In the interim period before Camia's development can begin, she has offered for Project Lyttelton to facilitate the community's use of the site.

With seed funding from the Transitional City Projects Fund and generous support from many organisations and individuals, especially Ros Dixon from the Harbour Bazaar, we have been able to remove the fences and make the site safe and accessible. It is used every Saturday for the Harbour Bazaar craft market and will be used during festivals and for arts and music events.

Aside from these events, the site is available and waiting for further initiatives and events. Do you have ideas and energy for other improvement and events at Collett's Corner?

Project Lyttelton will continue to support and facilitate the site's use. Each of Project Lyttelton's projects is run by its advisory group, made up of staff, a board member and community members who have expertise and passion for the project. Typically, each advisory group meets about once a month to make all decisions about the project. Would you like to be on the advisory group? Or use the site for an event? Or turn up for a working bee? Perhaps you would like to build a planter box? Or have plants to donate? What would you like to see at Collett's Corner? Can you help to make that happen?

Get in touch with Ros Dixon (rosman@clear.net.nz) or Lucette Hindin (lucette@lyttelton.net.nz) with your ideas.

Celebrating Lyttelton Harbour Festival of Lights Approaching

LIGHT: It's about light and all the wonder and excitement that that brings.

CREATE: It's about bringing a community together to create, fostering local performing and creative arts.

CELEBRATE: We invite the communities of Lyttelton Harbour and Christchurch to come and celebrate the magic of the harbour and its people.

A week long festival of light, creativity and celebration.

Project Lyttelton's flagship festival is taking shape once again for 2016. In 2016 Claire Coates, Lyttelton local and co-manager of Project Lyttelton's hugely successful Garage Sale, is the Festival Coordinator.

There will be 9 days of events starting on Saturday 18 June leading up to the street party on Friday 24 June.

For the first time this year local artists have been invited to submit ideas for Light.Creativity.Celebration. They will contribute to a series of light installations to be exhibited around the township for the week of the festival.

New events for this year include a Bright Light Workshops by Science Alive, an evening of ideas and conversation at The Conversation Dinner sponsored by Lyttelton Harbour Timebank, Puppets at the Port, professional puppeteers from around Christchurch will gather for a day of puppetry at St Saviours at Holy Trinity, the Monster Hunt and Spooky Disco at the newly built Lyttelton Arts Factory (LAF) and a Quiz Night put on by Lyttelton Community House to name a few!

It is a celebration of the Lyttelton Harbour community with many groups getting involved throughout the week and on the night of the street party.

The Street Party will be held on Friday 24 June and commences with a street parade down the length of London Street. The theme for this year's parade is FUTURISTIC. This is a high energy event and a chance to let your creative juices flow. All members of the wider Lyttelton Harbour community young and old are encouraged to participate and create a costume using light for the parade. There will be entertainment at Albion Square from buskers and local young talent. Organisers are excited to have Candice Milner, Lindon Puffin, MUNDI, Los Faransantes and Kitchen Collective on the main London Street Stage. Every year is even better than the last. Street party goers will dance the night away to live music and entertainment, delicious street food and beverages up the main street with the spectacular fireworks display over the port town.

Pick up a programme at all Christchurch City Libraries. Coming soon. For more details visit lyttelton.net.nz

Community House: What's News?

Christine Wilson, Kathy Bessant and Hannah Sylvester form the core of the Lyttelton Community House team. Hannah is the newest member of the crew and her role is the community development worker. Kathy focuses on our elderly and Christine is the overall manager also looking after the Youth Centre. Sitting in Christine's office the team talk excitedly about everything that's happening.

"Last week three Lyttelton Quilters arranged to visit and out of the blue they donated seven wonderful hand sewn quilts to Community House", said Christine. This very generous donation opens the door for the team to connect with another part of Lyttelton Community. "We thought about the people who would get the biggest boost from a gift like this and concluded it was young mothers" she said.

Over the course of the next two weeks Hannah will visit seven lucky mums. The quilts will be given to them in recognition for their quiet achievements and the great job they are doing being great mums. Kathy reminds us that there seems to be a bit of a tradition for the House receiving rugs, blankets and now quilts to pass onto special Lyttelton residents.

Kathy speaks proudly about the work she has been able to do with local elderly. "My best success story is a woman who when I first met her would only open the door a couple of inches" she said.

This same person now is a volunteer at Community House. She's also about to head overseas. This is a far cry from the person who could hardly get out of bed. "Giving people some encouragement and support plus introducing them to others who then become their friends is just such a great thing" she said.

Community House is all about connecting people, young and old. "The weekly meal service for our elderly ensures that people who aren't very mobile get a visitor each day Monday to Friday" Kathy said. Community lunches every Tuesday then support another group of residents.

"Our brand new kitchen supported by the Youth Centre has also been a fabulous edition to the centre" said Christine.

Relationships with Lyttelton Primary are also developing well. "Primary School children are helping older residents come to know how to use mobile phones." Hannah says. "We've also got our elders visiting the Kindy and enjoying the company of younger children. The children sing to them and then share afternoon tea".

Most things seem to be going well for the team. They are still involved in earthquake outreach and have recently been involved in a door knock campaign with Red Cross. Unfortunately there are still residents who are suffering the effects of the earthquakes. They remind me that if you require support they are available to help you.

One thing still remains on the centre's wish list, a new community bus. The old one has been off the road for some time. That means it's harder to organise trips for both the youth and elderly. Lyttelton Rotary and Lyttelton Lions are getting behind the project and the Festival of Lights Street Party will be a fundraiser for them to achieve this goal. If you can assist them further they would be happy to hear from you.

Mean time if you have never been to Community House or need help with anything they are keen to hear from you. Give them a call 741 1427

Low rainfall taking its toll

Lack of rain is beginning to take its toll on Christchurch and Banks Peninsula, with groundwater levels at record lows and rivers and streams drying up. Low rainfall over the past few months has also left the Port Hills and Banks Peninsula drier than they were at the height of the summer, raising concerns about the fire risk.

According to NIWA's National Climate Centre, Christchurch only had 15 millimetres of rain in April, 34 per cent of what it would normally get.

Christchurch City Council Reticulation Manager Rob Meek said the Council was investigating the introduction of water restrictions in Banks Peninsula.

"The summer and autumn months have been very dry in Christchurch, and particularly Banks Peninsula. The low rainfall throughout Canterbury has large implications on the extraction and delivery of water to Banks Peninsula.

"Stream flows are currently around a third of what they were at the start of the year and half of what they were at this time last year. If the stream flows drop any lower and are not replenished by rain events, the Council may have to move to implement water restrictions," Mr Meek said.

The networks that were most at risk were Duvauchelle, Takamatua and Akaroa.

"We are currently working out the stream flows for all streams in Bank Peninsula to decide whether restrictions are needed, but the point we would make is that this is not an issue caused by residents water usage, it is the result of weather and natural events," Mr Meek said.

Get tips on how to conserve water

Environment Canterbury (ECan) Groundwater Science Manager Carl Hanson said Christchurch's groundwater levels were at record lows.

Not enough rain had fallen last winter to provide much recharge to the groundwater system and if Christchurch had another dry winter, groundwater levels would continue to fall.

"What is needed to restore base flow to our spring-fed Christchurch streams is a wetter-than-average winter," Mr Hanson said.

Christchurch City Council Acting Principal Rural Fire Officer Paul Devlin said conditions on the Ports Hills and in Banks Peninsula were drier now than at the height of the summer.

"It may feel autumnal but the reality is the Port Hills and Banks Peninsula are as dry now as they were at the height of the summer and the fire risk is very high," Mr Devlin said.

It was important that people living on the Port Hills and in rural areas minimised the risk to their homes by keeping a defensible space between their home and vegetation.

If possible they should maintain a mown grass area that would slow the travel of the fire and buy time for firefighters to protect their house, if possible, or allow the owners to escape safely.

Steve Collins's amazing story of survival from 100 miles north of Lord Howe Island. Thursday 19 May

Come along and hear Steve Collins's amazing story of survival from 100 miles north of Lord Howe Island he encountered rough weather, the boat was damaged, diesel fuel leaked in to the cabin of his yacht and all throughout the boat, making things very slippery and unmanagable. Eventually after exhausting all other avenues, he set off his EPIRB.

Long hours later, at dusk, a 286 metre Container ship arrived: the Lars Maersk. With 4-5 metre swells and 40 knots of wind, the transfer did not go well. Steve ended up in the water alongside this huge vessel, the current dragged him swiftly along, under and then behind that ship, spitting him out into the South Tasman Sea.

At night. Alone. Come along to hear about how he was rescued, the preparations he made before abandoning his boat, and how to prepare for life threatening situations. Naval Point Club Lyttelton.

Lyttelton before the road tunnel.

A very different Port.

We had three schools, The West. The Main and the Convent. The Nuns lived in the Convent on the corner of Canterbury and Exeter Street. They always wore their black and white habits and were a part of the Lyttelton community.

There were quite a few larger families in Lyttelton in the late fifties. Some having up to ten children. The Plunket rooms opposite the Police Station were in great demand and the mothers were so grateful to them for their help with the young ones.

We travelled by train through the rail tunnel with stops at Heathcote, Woolston, Opawa and Linwood Stations. Normally there were four or five carriages behind the steam train which changed to electric in the late fifties.

There were not a lot of cars in Lyttelton in the fifties so the train was used a lot. Those with cars used the Sumner Road to go through to Sumner and then on to Christchurch.

My uncle Morris Radcliffe who owned fruit orchards in Allandale owned a model A car with a canvas top. He would come into Lyttelton on a Friday evening and pick up my two brothers and I and also my cousins around the road and off we would go over the hill to Sumner. My uncle never went any faster than 30 M.P.H. We often went to the pictures (The Hollywood cinema) and then to my uncle's little batch in South Brighton. The next day we all blew up our lilos and down to the beach we went and would spend hours in the waves and then back to the Batch for tea. What fun we all had and what awesome memories of the old model A car.

Coming back home to Lyttelton over the Evans Pass was a struggle for the car, ten miles an hour was its limit.

Horses were a common sight in the early years. I had a horse called Beauty and had many a happy time riding her around the hills. I remember riding her down Brenchley road from my home often without a saddle and only a bridle when suddenly the green grass became too tempting for Beauty and down went her head and over the top I went, I was never hurt but it sure was a long way down.

I used to collect horse and cow manure up in the paddocks and sell sugar sacks full to our local grocer, Mr, Jack McKenna. who had the little store at the top of Oxford street. He sold the bags to the local people who had gardens.

We children. also enjoyed gathering mushrooms up the hills, they were plentiful. Beautiful large dark mushrooms. Mum cooked them in a pan with butter until browned and then added milk and salt and simmered and we had it with homemade bread and butter. Delicious.

Our Daily Waste launches Recycling System Pilot at

Heathcote Valley and Lyttelton Primary Schools – Thursday 19th May, 2016

Canterbury recycling consultancy Our Daily Waste is working with Enviroschools Canterbury to install a pilot recycling system into Heathcote Valley Primary School, and the newly merged and rebuilt Lyttelton Primary School. The launches are due to take place on Thursday 19th May at Lyttelton School (10.20am) and Heathcote Valley School (12.30pm) to coincide with break times.

The confusion around recycling has been in the news a lot recently and although schools have robust education programmes the message is not often backed up by playground practices. For Dr. Sharon McIver, owner-operator of Our Daily Waste, the funding granted by sustainable funds trust SIFT to purchase fully signed 240l bin lids, meant there was the opportunity for a school pilot, and the first person she called was Brett Partel, the property manager for both schools who McIver had met in 2013 at an Enviroschools' workshop.

“Lyttelton was an obvious choice for us because it’s a new school, and our signage is already in use in the area at events and the Farmers’ Market, but it’s Brett’s enthusiasm that made it most appealing,” says McIver. “Recycling systems need buy-in from everyone, but the staff who remove the rubbish are most important, and Brett’s commitment was evident from the start.”

So that comparisons can be made between a new campus and an established one, Heathcote Valley School will also be included in the pilot. “The students there have already shown a lot of enthusiasm, and we undertook an audit with their environment club in 2013,” says McIver. “The results were standard with high recycling contamination rates, and at least half of the landfill could have been diverted, saving the school in waste disposal fees.”

As both schools are signed to Enviroschools (Heathcote Valley signed up last term), the system will be supported by their education team. Matt Stanford from Enviroschools says, “This national programme empowers students to make sustainable changes in their school and wider environment. Learning about the importance of and implementing effective waste management practises are a part of this journey.”

Whilst the schools stand to gain reduced waste fees, for Our Daily Waste the pilot is the first step in getting their revolutionary recycling systems into schools across Aotearoa/NZ.

Madness.

Madness came out of his cavern,
Wondering which way to go;
A whole world lay out there before him
With too many choices to know.

How to create the most folly?
What tools to use on the way?
It isn't as though he had logic
To help him dive into the fray.

Politics, greed and corruption
All shouted aloud for his aid;
But which one would be most contagious
And leave the world totally frayed?

Eureka! The answer came to him
Combine the three into one mould.
Who could resist that tri-union
And leave themselves out of the fold?

And which tool to use was quite easy
Wilful blindness ahead of the bunch
Ignoring the facts all around one!
Hurrah! He could go off to lunch.

By John Riminton.

4 months pilot scheme during May and August

This pilot scheme provides a safe, confidential space to be with others experiencing eating disorders.

One new members' feedback: "Thank you [Frances] for last night... I found it really beneficial to chat to someone, beyond those in clinical practices". Megan N.

Participants share thoughts and ideas, gain support for recovery and find companionship.

Frances Young is the inaugural facilitator of this new Christchurch community based ED Self Help Group, which began on the 2nd of May

She has over 22 year's professional experience working with people in their recovery from eating disorders.

Frances came to this work through her own recovery; she attended a self help group for eating disorders regularly and found it very helpful during a time of fear and isolation.

Frances knows just how hard it is to make that first step to reach out for help.

Frances also knows how worthwhile it is when you find your own way to being open, and receiving effective help from others who understand.

Frances remembers how good it felt to belong to a local community support group with no clinical content or directives, and one she could attend when she needed and felt able to, but with no obligation to join.

Discussion

The content of the discussion is recovery and wellness. It does not focus on particular weight, size or nutrition.

5 Ground rules to help every group member feel safe:

- 1) Confidentiality (what is said at the meetings stays within the meetings i.e. no gossip)
- 2) Positive regard for each person as an individual whatever their situation
- 3) No pressure for anyone to talk if they don't wish to, listening is just as important.
- 4) Listen positively to other members
- 5) Conversations will always be focussed on support towards recovery and wellbeing.

"It has the ability to be such a great place for people to come together and just chat to others who share similar struggles, knowing that they are not alone on their journey and also seeing that 'recovery'/ life beyond an eating disorder is possible."

Anyone with food, exercise and self esteem issues, is welcome to come along to see if this support group suits. There is no obligation to join, but anyone is welcome one to turn up on the night.

All enquiries and information are kept confidential.

"I think getting over the first hurdle, coming along to a meeting, will be the hardest part for others to overcome, however, after that the benefits and positive gains will start to happen."

PIPE BURSTING

Frequently Asked Questions

1. What is pipe bursting?

Pipe bursting involves digging trenches near two manholes and pulling a drill head through the existing pipe. The drill head breaks up the old pipe as it moves along the pipeline. The new piece of PE pipe is pulled through behind the drill head, replacing the old pipe as it goes.

2. Why is pipe bursting used?

Because pipe bursting does not require trenching along the whole length of the pipe it has fewer construction impacts to businesses, homeowners and traffic. Pipe bursting also takes less time than open trenching.

- Downer as part of SCIRT will be repairing earthquake damaged publically owned retaining walls on Reserve Terrace in Lyttelton.
- This work will take about seven months to finish, subject to favourable on-site and weather conditions.
- We will be rebuilding the retaining walls from number 13 to 31 Reserve Terrace and repairing part of the retaining wall steps at 14 Reserve Terrace.

Enabling work

- Before work can start on the retaining walls we need to do some work to protect existing services. This is called enabling work. We will divert the water main and relocate some overhead power cables. This work will start on Monday 16 May 2016.
- The water main diversion will be done by City Care. They will start at the northern end of the road closure (near Watsons Lane), and work south on Reserve Terrace towards the Randolph Terrace intersection. This work will take about two weeks to finish.

Map 1: Road Closure for enabling work.

- The water will be cut off for a short time when the new main is connected. You will be notified by City Care when this is going to happen.
- While the water main is being diverted, Connetics will be relocating some overhead power lines and laying them underground. Relocation of the power lines will start at the southern end of the closure (near Randolph Terrace) and work north, taking about three weeks to finish.
- If power cables to your property are going to be relocated you will find additional information attached to the back of this notice.

Site compound

- We will set up a site compound at the southern end of Reserve Terrace, near the entrance to the Timeball Station.
- The site office provides office space and welfare facilities for our crews.
- We will have a designated vehicle turning area here (see Map 3 above). We encourage members of the public to use this space to turn when accessing the southern end of Reserve Terrace.
- We will mark out some car parks. These will be used by our staff and also be made available for relief parking when our work restricts resident parking. We will monitor the use of these parks as there is a limited amount of space. Our crew will minimise usage when needed to maximise availability for residents.

Additional information

- We will do what we can to maintain pedestrian access past the worksite when we are working on the retaining wall. However this may not be possible at all times.
- We will have a Site Traffic Management Supervisor (STMS) on-site during work hours. The STMS will be able to assist with both vehicle and pedestrian movement.
- Please be alert to changes in traffic management, follow signage on-site and drive to the changed conditions.

We understand the impacts of this work will be significant. Please contact the Downer team if you have any questions or concerns. We look forward to working with you while completing these essential repairs.
