A Note from the Info Centre Manager

Kia ora to all our readers,

How lovely it is to be enjoying the splendid spring weather we have been having of late. The daffodils are nearing the end and the blossoms have been in great form this year. Every time I pass a garden with a blossom tree, I feel so grateful to the person who planted it. Not only do they get joy from the once-a-year gorgeous floral display, but so do we. In typical spring fashion, the weather is up and down with some very cool nights forecasted ahead. Still not quite warm enough for some Lyttelton homes to not have their chimneys smoking! With school holidays just around the corner, I invite you all to come down to the Information Centre and see what you may be able to get up to locally. Our volunteers are always happy to assist with any request you may have. And let's keep our fingers crossed for stable weather.

Wishing you all good health, Rushani

Volunteering at the Information Centre

People volunteer for many different reasons. For some, it provides the opportunity to give back to their community or make a difference to those around them. For others, it can help build on existing skills or develop new ones. Lyttelton is very well known for its sense of community and volunteering brings with it a clear sense of teamwork. I am a firm believer that volunteering is also about relationship building. In my short time at the Information Centre, I have seen the positive and helpful interactions between visitors, locals and our volunteers. I witness first-hand how important the social contact aspect of connecting with, helping and working with others has on the well-being of people in addition to building a new network of friends, increasing social cohesion and providing purpose.

We have a wonderful team of 16 volunteers and are looking for more extra-special people to join us. You may have a few hours spare once a week, fortnight or even once a month that you'd like to fill. Perhaps you have an encyclopedic knowledge of our walking trails or a real love of the history that fills every nook and cranny of our harbour. You may be a born and bred local, with stories to share with people till the cows come home. Or you may have moved here recently, fell in love with the harbour and couldn't imagine calling anywhere else home. No matter what your knowledge of the place we all call home, every volunteer brings a very special flavour and uniqueness to our Information Centre and this is what I believe makes volunteering with us so special. We have monthly training sessions, which are often held at local businesses who are members of our Information Centre, so we can learn more about what they offer and proactively recommend them to our visitors. Our team is strong, cohesive and supportive to each other and our working environment is positive, respectful and kind.

If you would like to know more, pop on down to our Information Centre and have a chat with our friendly volunteers. We are also up for a chinwag and happy to answer any questions you may have. You're also welcome to contact me, Rushani, on my email address office@lytteltoninfocentre.nz and I'll be very happy to answer any questions you may have.

We look forward to welcoming you onboard.

Summit Road Society Guiding Walks in this year's Banks Peninsula Walking Festival

The Summit Road Society continues to be a great supporter of the Banks Peninsula Walking Festival, providing two guided walks in this year's Festival.

Join Marie Gray on a 'Kids Adventure at Sugarloaf' on Sunday 28th November. Journey through native bush, up rocky spurs, over tussock grasslands, and enjoy panoramic views in all directions. There will be activities to enjoy along the way and time for an ice-cream stop at the 'Sign of the Kiwi' for well-deserved little trampers! The area is part of Te Kākahu Kahukura, a landscape scale restoration project that aims to create a 1000ha biodiversity hub on the southern Port Hills. Marie will share the vision of working in collaboration with landowners, residents, organisations and agencies to protect and connect existing bush and restoration plantings. This 2.5km walk will be a lot of fun, and suitable for most children.

Book tickets through Eventfinda - <https://www.eventfinda.co.nz/2021/26-kids-adventure-at-sugarloaf/christchurch-district>

Marie will also be joined by John Marsh as they 'Explore Avoca Valley' on Sunday 7th November. Learn about the ambitious planting programme the Summit Road Society has undertaken in this area of the Port Hills. Climb hilly terrain, cross tussock grassland and journey down the Rapaki Track to the Linda Woods Reserve. See for yourself the head of the valley with the particularly stunning native flora flourishing on the south facing rocky outcrops. Make sure you book your tickets on Eventfinda: <https://www.eventfinda.co.nz/2021/06-exploring-avoca-valley/christchurch-district>

New community organisation fund taking action for the environment

Applications are open for a new contestable fund for community organisations who want to take action for a better environment in Canterbury.

Building community engagement and action

The Waitaha Action to Impact Fund was established to enhance community engagement and action, and encourage environmental projects that are led by and involve communities across the region.

To apply, community organisations must have legal entity status and be a registered charity or not-for-profit organisation. The fund is not open to applications from individuals, businesses, educational institutions or government agencies.

Eligible organisations can apply for between $5,000 and $30,000 per year for projects that align with Council's Strategic Direction.

Valuing community organisations

We value the contribution of community organisations as they bring local knowledge and networks; raise community awareness and buy-in; as well as mobilising volunteers. They may be small locally focused groups of volunteers or larger non-government organisations employing staff.

The Waitaha Action to Impact fund was an initiative from our Long-Term Plan 2021–31. For the fund's first year, Council have allocated a total of $100,000 with a plan to increase the money available in subsequent years.

Apply for the fund

If you think your community organisation has a suitable project, check out the fund guide and eligibility criteria.

Applications are open until 11 October 2021.

Further Consultation

HMNZS Steadfast tracks proposal

City Council staff are inviting additional comments on the amended track layout in the HMNZS Steadfast landscape plan, before reporting the plan to the Community Board for approval.

Your additional feedback is welcome until October 10th.

Staff's rationale for additional consultation is:

"Although mountain biking and shared use tracks were not explicitly included in the original consultation material, feedback to the HMNZS Steadfast draft landscape plan included comments from more than a third of submitters that a range of track users should be provided for - including some strong advocacy for mountain biking."

In preparing the updated tracks plan, we further investigated issues such as hazard zones and gradient. This was followed by a site meeting between Council staff, the Cass Bay Reserve Management Committee and mountain bike representatives, to discuss suitable track options"

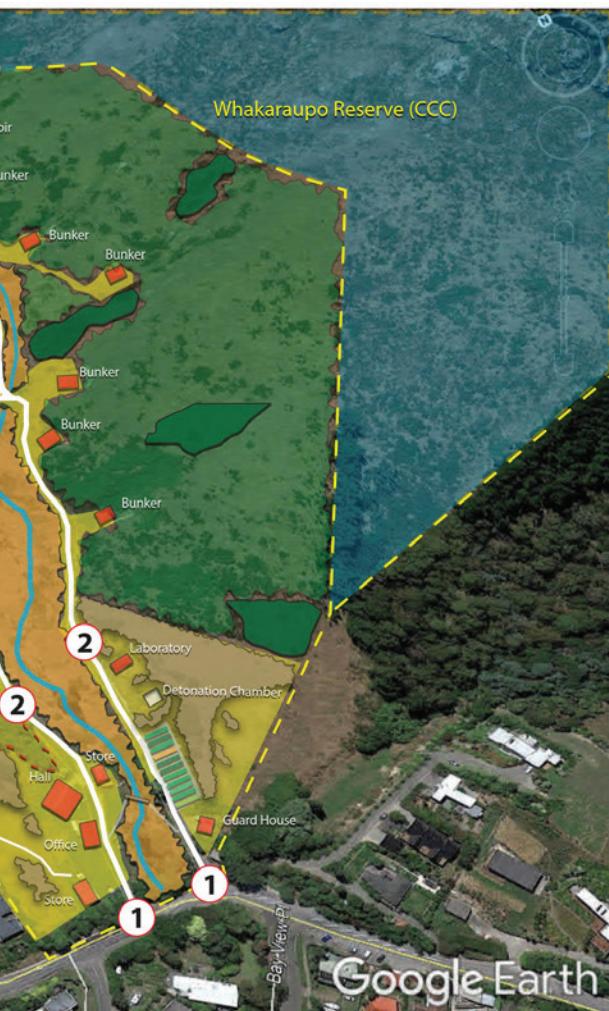

HMNZS Steadfast Draft Updated Tracks Proposal for C

Here are the new proposals:

The amended track layout includes walking tracks, shared-use tracks, and a mountain bike-only section of track. Numbering on the attached plan shows the planned staging and priority for inclusion of tracks in the park.

Tracks are not proposed in the eastern side of the park due to the risk of rock fall and unsuitable terrain, as shown in the hazard map.

Proposed staging of access

eft Landscape Plan Consultation

Throughout the park, signs will indicate designated track use and, where relevant, the direction of mountain biking.

Staff also plan a community drop in session at Steadfast to discuss the proposal further. You are very welcome to discuss options further before making your submission.

Note: All track alignments shown on this plan are indicative only, and may be subject to minor variations depending on (e.g.) fine-scale topography, ground conditions and further investigation.

The drop in is Thursday 30 September 4.30pm to 6pm, at HMNZS Steadfast, Governors Bay Road, Cass Bay.

This will only happen if we are Level 2 COVID Alert Level or lower, and corresponding restrictions of record keeping, distancing and mask wearing will apply.

1 Access from main road frontage

No change to consulted plan. Provide views into site frontage to increase passive surveillance by limbing-up and thinning dense vegetation. Daytime parking access during Council seasonal hours and 24 hour walking/biking access.

2 Shared biking and walking loop track

No change from consulted track. Wide mown grass loop track (approximately 3 metres wide where possible) following existing vehicle/4WD terrace. Track is located outside of the rockfall risk zone which includes most of the true left (east) side of the valley above the existing track. Suitable for walking and mountain biking.

3 Walking track to Summit Road

Minor change to consulted track. Walking link to Crater Rim Walkway and Whakaraupo Reserve. Council staff to investigate earthworks/benching requirements (likely extent shown in red) to construct walkway on true right (west) of the waterway gully, to avoid the rockfall zone on true left (east). This link is not suitable for mountain biking access and will be signposted as such.

4a Shared secondary track (a)

Minor change to consulted track. Track across western side of valley designed for shared walking and mountain biking. Track links top of mown grass loop track (2) with start of dedicated mountain biking track (5).

4b Secondary walking track (b)

Minor change from consulted track. Track suitable for walking only. Track alignment avoids activity spaces during events and now follows open grass slope along western property boundary. Track will be sign-posted as walking only.

5 Beginner/intermediate mountain bike track

Addition to consulted plan. Dedicated beginner/intermediate mountain bike track following natural contours. Track to be clearly marked as a mountain biking track, and may be closed at times during and following periods of wet weather.

6 Poled walking route

Minor amendment to consulted track. An informal walking-only poled route following natural contours that gains elevation along the western boundary, avoiding rockfall risk areas. Track no longer follows reserve boundary. This link is not suitable for mountain biking and will be sign-posted as such.

Bush Farm Education – Trustees Wanted

Are you ready for your next challenge in an environment where you want to question education norms?

Bush Farm Education is an exciting startup that does just this. We take children out of the classroom during school hours and hit the curriculum outside. We give our children real-world learning experiences that complement four days in the classroom. We could be monitoring the rivers 'health through invertebrate studies; taking soil samples in various parts of the organic farm; seed-saving for next year's crops; or using handtools to fix a plumbing issue. Every day is a new day. We want our children to learn from nature, in nature, every season of the year.

Lyttelton Presents Mike King

We know the conversation around mental health is an important one. That's why we were proud to partner with the Lyttelton branch of the Maritime Union of New Zealand and the Lyttelton Rugby Club to bring Mike King to Lyttelton.

Over three nights earlier this month, Mike King gave his humorous and thought-provoking talk on his own mental health journey and how to defeat your inner critic.

Mike's presentation discusses how we all have an inner critic – something telling us we are not good enough or we are doing things wrong, and how we can stop it from taking over.

LPC CEO Roger Gray says it was a no brainer to support this work.

"As a company that has a workforce of over 600 Cantabrians, we know we have a responsibility to support the mental wellbeing of our people and the wider LPC whānau – this includes the Lyttelton and Banks Peninsula communities.

"Mike King has been a leading advocate in the field of mental health, and we are proud to welcome him to the harbour."

Mike also emphasised the importance of checking in on your friends and family, as you never know when or how you can change someone's day.

The initiative was one that was sparked by LPC Foremen Gerard Loader, who started his own mental health journey after listening to Mike King previously.

"After admitting I needed and got help for my own mental struggles, I thought what can I do to help other people at work and in the community who are struggling but unable or too proud to open up.

"I am so grateful that LPC agreed to do it not only for their employees but for the wider Lyttelton/Christchurch community and I truly believe that what we have done has had a real positive impact on everyone who participated."

Although this was a free event, we encouraged all attending to give a koha/donation to support the Lyttelton Rugby Club's work around mental health and through the generosity of those attending, raised $1600.

New book celebrates singular artist

A new book about Lyttelton artist Bill Hammond is likely to be extraordinarily popular says its editor, Christchurch Art Gallery Publications Coordinator Sarah Pepperle.

Photograph: Jane McBride.

Bill Hammond, December 2018.

"Bill was a legend, one of Aotearoa's most important artists. This new book Across the Evening Sky offers a fascinating insight into his paintings, many of which have rarely been seen."

Authored by curator Peter Vangioni, the book is the companion to 2007's award-winning book Jingle Jangle Morning.

"Jingle Jangle Morning was one of our most popular titles," says Mr Vangioni. "It is still regularly requested despite being out of print. Across the Evening Sky picks up where that book left off and explores what is arguably the strongest period of Bill's work, featuring large, beautiful bird paintings set in mythologised landscapes."

Work on the project began last year as a collaboration with the artist, who died in January aged 73.

It includes a recorded conversation with friend and fellow Christchurch artist Tony de Lautour – a rarity, as Mr Hammond was notorious for refusing interviews about his work.

Gallery photographer John Collie travelled around the country to capture images for the book, many of which are held in private collections. Renowned artists including Fiona Pardington, Marlon Williams and Shane Cotton also wrote short pieces on aspects of Mr Hammond's practice - and writers Rachael King and Nic Low, composer Ariana Tikao and Canterbury Museum Senior Curator of Natural History Paul Scofield are among the contributors.

In his piece, Mr Scofield pinpoints the enormous, now extinct pouākai/Haast's eagle as an inspiration for the artist.

"These very early colonisers of the birdland that was Aotearoa were undoubtedly the inspiration for Bill Hammond's giant avian creatures. That loss adds a patina of melancholy to Hammond's bird paintings," he writes.

Gallery Director Blair Jackson says it was a privilege for the gallery team to work with Mr Hammond on the book.

"He leaves behind a superb legacy of his unique vision – an incredible body of work that will, I have no doubt, continue to amaze and enthral many generations to come."

Bill Hammond: Across the Evening Sky is being distributed around New Zealand by Nationwide Books and can also be purchased directly from the Christchurch Art Gallery Design Store.

Busy C's News

This edition we have two stories. One prior to lockdown, Helping the Environment and a new one embracing Te Wiki o Te Reo Māori. Thank you Busy C's for keeping your community up to date on your activities.

Helping the Environment

Busy C's is an Enviro-preschool where tamariki and kaiako are always looking out for ways to take care of the environment. We do regular hīkoi/walks to the park and the local community garden - where we love helping and learning new things. We are so lucky to have this communal space just down the road. When we are on our hīkoi the tamariki make it their mahi/work to point out rubbish for kaiako to pick up. They have been learning about how rubbish left on the footpaths can get washed into the gutters and end up in the ocean causing harm to our precious sea life. We are all kaitiaki / guardians of our environment.

We have been thinking about ngā manu/ our birds and their winter foraging for kai - and wanted to treat them. We created pine cone bird feeders by stuffing the pinecones with fat & bird seeds. Tamariki have hung these on our fence and love observing the manu that arrive to feast on ngā kākano/seeds. We have noticed so many different manu - and are busy identifying them and imagining life as a bird. Lots of good ideas to explore!

Embracing Te Wiki o Te Reo Māori

We enjoyed embracing Te Wiki o Te Reo Māori at Busy Cs, as we do every week!

Tamariki and kaiako have been challenging themselves with new kupu /words and having fun remembering... We even noticed tamariki correcting their whānau and teaching them the Māori translation of words they know.

Tamariki have been engaging in the waiata that they are familiar with and also enjoying learning new waiata.

We participated in the Māori Language Moment on September 14, 12 midday (along with many of our whānau in their places of mahi/work) in attempt for a world record for the most people using an indigenous language at once. This was pārekereka! (fun!).

Draft Strengthening Communities Strategy

Last Friday 10 September, the refreshed draft Strengthening Communities Strategy (now called Ōtautahi Christchurch Community Strategy 2021-31) was made public for your feedback.

This Strategy is important because it will set the direction for Council for the next 10 years and determines what initiatives get prioritised/supported/funded.

The new Strategy has evolved from a high-level aspirational policy into a clear framework for creating stronger communities, with a vision, goals, objectives and actions.

The 2021 Strategy is:

- More goal-focused and outcome oriented;
- Places greater emphasis on promoting collaboration and working in partnerships to address issues of importance to communities;
- Puts more effort into research, monitoring, evaluating and reporting back to the Council, Community Boards and the wider community; and
- Builds on the core principles and values from the previous strategy.
- Organised under the four overarching 'pillars' of:
 1. People – valuing diversity and fostering inclusion
 2. Place – building community connections, identity and stewardship
 3. Participation – engagement in community life and in decision-making, including volunteering
 4. Preparedness - climate resilience and adaptation action, safety and well-being

This strategy will guide how the Council works with organisations, groups and communities across Christchurch and Banks Peninsula for the next ten years. It will influence what is resourced and prioritised.

Help create your community's future

While input was generated across the city during the review of this strategy, we are conscious there has been little input from the residents of Banks Peninsula to date.

Please have a look over this draft strategy and provide your feedback, including:

- What you support and/or disagree with.
- Is this Strategy a good fit for your community?
- Does it align with your current and anticipated community needs and aspirations?
- Are there better examples of what the intended actions may look like in your community?
- Is anything missing?

You can find all these documents, and more information, including the online feedback form on the have your say page <https://ccc.govt.nz/the-council/haveyoursay/show/353>.

The documents are also available at all Christchurch City Council libraries (including Lyttelton and Diamond Harbour where you can also submit online).

We will be at the Lyttelton Farmers Market with the engagement team on Saturday, 25 September 10am-1pm.

If you would like to talk through any questions you have or seek more information please come along, or we are happy to make another time to discuss this with you. This can be over the phone, via Zoom/Skype session or in person. Whatever works best for you.

Thank you for your ongoing interest and advocacy for all things community.

Cheaper Public Transport

Sign a Petition for Student Fare Reductions

Student bodies are calling Environment Canterbury

Councillors to implement a fare reduction for students. They want to get more students into more climate-friendly transport modes and argue a fare reduction would increase parking spaces for those who need it more, have a positive environmental effect, get students' cars off the road, and help them develop life-long public transport habits.

Students are a price sensitive group likely to change behaviour with a fare reduction. This is backed up in a recent survey at the University of Canterbury. The survey indicated 58% of students would use the bus more if it was discounted, as for many it's currently cheaper to drive than it is to bus. 98% of UC students support a bus discount.

In the recent Environment Canterbury long term plan submissions, Lincoln University Students Association and University of Canterbury Students Association both submitted advocating for a fare reduction for tertiary students. Subsequently councillors have voted to investigate the fare reduction, with a report coming to their meeting on the 30th of September - where it is likely to be voted on. The proposed discount would include tertiary students attending UC, Lincoln, Ara and Christchurch School of Medicine campuses, reducing the price to the current child fare.

Student bodies argue it is crucial to implement this as soon as possible to lower climate-changing emissions and congestion, give freedom to many students who can't afford to bus, bring more students into the city centre, and increase parking spaces for those who truly need it around our institutions. They need community support to get this across the line, so they are urging people to please sign their petition. To support them visit

Many rural roads will have significantly lower speeds. Most changes are expected to be in place later this year, although changes in Lyttelton are set to occur early next year. Historical Artifacts Missing!

A plea from St Joseph the Worker community, Lyttelton, who are planning a memorial on the site of the 1865 church grounds. This will be a memorial to past generations of parishioners and for present and future generations to be informed and to enjoy. St Joseph's is an important part of Lyttelton's heritage and legacy. After the church was demolished following the 3 devastating earthquakes, artifacts were, regrettably, taken without permission from the site and from a padlocked container. We really need these artifacts to be returned - or if they have been incorporated into homes etc - that a decent donation be gifted towards the cost of building the memorial. We are especially hoping for the return of the foundation stone. There will be a period of amnesty until the 30th of September 2021 to return any artifacts, with no repercussions. The community would appreciate the artifacts being returned to the site of the church in Winchester Street, Lyttelton. Confidentiality is guaranteed for anyone wishing to contact the committee on 027 698 0057.

The bank account number for donations is: 03-1599-0125719-000

Thanking you in anticipation,

St Joseph the Worker Memorial Committee

Dyers Pass Road work winding up

We'll be removing traffic management on Dyers Pass Road at the end of next week as we finish work to install three kilometres of safety barriers. The new guardrails are being installed at high-risk locations, which should reduce the severity of crashes where vehicles would have left the road.

The last night closure will be on Wednesday 29 September, and the traffic lights and construction equipment will be removed over the following two days.

We'll be doing some tidy up work the following week including sealing, line marking and extra maintenance work as the road and slopes settle down. This work will be done outside of peak hours with a stop/go in place where needed, so please continue keeping an eye out for work crews.

We know this work has been disruptive and has taken longer than expected. Thanks for your ongoing patience.

We're continuing to work within Covid-19 Alert Level 2 guidelines, so please be mindful of keeping a safe distance (a minimum of two metres) from our traffic management and construction teams if you're passing through Dyers Pass Road.

Adventure Activities Health & Safety Regime

- Public Consultation Opens

The Government has announced the start of the public consultation into the health and safety regime for registered adventure activities. Following the Whakaari/White Island eruption in December 2019, a targeted review found that safety standards in adventure activities were improving, but identified certain areas that required strengthening. More information on the consultation, including where to provide feedback (open through 5 November) is available at <https://www.mbie.govt.nz/have-your-say/adventure-activities>

Become a Marine Mammal Medic Project Jonah

Each year, hundreds of whales, and dolphins strand on our shores. Whilst some are sick or injured, others are healthy and just need a helping hand back out to sea.

But saving whales isn't as easy as it looks, and successful rescue often depends on properly trained volunteers. That's where you come in.

You can become a Marine Mammal Medic with our one-day course. It costs $125 ($95 for students with valid ID) and once trained you'll be added to our national callout list. That means that when a stranding occurs your lifesaving skills can be called upon.

Next course in Christchurch Saturday November 6th for more information visit <https://www.projectjonah.org.nz/>

October Exhibition:

Kintsugi: embracing the scars of healing - Group show: presented by Artists Against Slavery

Kintsugi is group show presented by Artists Against Slavery that explores the concept of brokenness, its repair, and how it can become part of a new whole. Kintsugi is the Japanese art of restoring broken ceramic vessels with lacquer and gold, with the resulting object becoming more valuable than before. As a philosophy, it treats breakage and repair as part of the history of an object, rather than something to disguise. It highlights cracks and repairs as simply an event in life, rather than allowing its service to end at the time of its damage or breakage.

Interpretations of Kintsugi are made in the exhibition through ceramics, pottery, painting and printing. Its artists range from established professionals to emerging practitioners, largely from Christchurch and the Banks Peninsula. The artists are Tania Bostock, Nina Brown, Julia Dower, Bev Frost, Renate Galezcka, Naomi Goto Garrett, Sarah Harper, Aamira Jain, Jane McCulla, Janie Porter, Gaby Reade, Soon-Lee Spicer, Kaylene Worrall.

As an organisation, Artists Against Slavery (AAgS) raises funds to help with the rehabilitation of women and children who have been trafficked and abused. A great deal of shame can hang over a victim, usually for life. Rehabilitation helps victims to see that they are of great value together with their painful history. AAgS will take a commission of 10% but artists can give more if they choose. AAgS gives 100% of money raised to Hagar NZ who work with victims of human trafficking and abuse in Afghanistan, Cambodia and Vietnam.
