Lyttelton in the Spot Light

What is the essence of this community?

On Thursday May 10th Lyttelton was visited by a broad delegation of Civil Defence representatives and their Australian counterparts. Lead by John Hamilton, New Zealand's Director of Civil Defence and Emergency Management, the Lyttelton representatives were introduced to Cam Derry who heads up the equivalent government department in Australia and his colleague Kerryn, plus team members from Wellington and the Canterbury area.

The team came to meet Lyttelton community group leaders who were directly involved in the emergency and recovery response from the earthquakes. They were seeking to find out our community story. How and why did this area perform so well during the crisis and its aftermath? What did we attribute our success to? What have we got to share with the world?

Representing our community was Gary Manch [Lyttelton Police], Pete Dawson [St Johns], Jules Lee [Lyttelton Harbour Basin Community Civil Defence], Margaret Jefferies [Project Lyttelton], Christine Wilson [Lyttelton Community House], Andrew Turner [Lyttelton Harbour Business Association], Wendy Everingham [Project Lyttelton and Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre] and members of the Lyttelton based Civil Defence team Pat Owen and Liz Briggs.

Everyone had the opportunity to talk about their experiences and why they felt Lyttelton had performed well. In the early days following February 22nd, it was acknowledged how fortunate Lyttelton was to have been hosting the New Zealand Navy. And mixed in with the Navy was the excellent local team work; the culture of volunteerism in Lyttelton provided a wealth of knowledge across various community groups; and neighbours helping neighbours was all part of the recipe that got us through the natural disaster so well.

Living in a village with defined boundaries also makes these connections easier. Added to that was the usefulness of the Lyttelton Timebank and the great communication networks that Lyttelton has. Years of actively building our community has also been a major contributing factor, plus the realisation by most that being geographically isolated from Christchurch City, Lyttelton is on its own in an emergency so we have to take responsibility for ourselves and those around us.

There is also an underlying realisation amongst some residents in the township that we need to be self sufficient, not only for emergencies but world events. Climate change, peak oil, currency instability and civil unrest are all possible clouds on the horizon. So many people have been gearing up to be more local and less reliant on the wider world.

All of these things helped with Lyttelton's community response and helped Lyttelton to move forward into the future with optimism and energy.

about the lyttelton review

Lyttelton Review is a community newsletter initiative developed by local Professionals real estate agent Lynnette Baird and Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre chairperson Wendy Everingham. The objective of the Lyttelton Review is to help keep local residents informed with what is going on in Lyttelton and the wider Lyttelton Harbour community. Each week readers can read about community groups; businesses; events; and everything in between. Ultimately we are a collective of vibrant, like minded, unpaid volunteers striving to give an independent, and uncensored voice. If you have an event, topic, cause, or other, that you would like to share with the harbour community, then we would love to hear from you. Be heard, be seen, be informed - read it or offer it here.

Festival of Lights: Countdown

24 Days until the Lyttelton Harbour Festival of Lights

Al Park probably doesn't need an introduction with his life time of musical and music industry accomplishments. However what you might not be aware is the valued role he plays selecting the Lyttelton Harbour Festival of Lights main stage music line ups each year. In a purely voluntary capacity, that's his role on the festival team and one of the ways that he can contribute personally to the vibrancy of the Lyttelton community. "I'm looking to show case the top acts in Port. We have some of the best acts in the country and it's the role of the festival to highlight our musicians and to inspire up and coming bands" he said. This year the line up includes two rock bands and two country/pop style bands.

The Greyhounds play for the first time. An authentic blue grass feel, the band is a combination of musicians from the Unfaithful Ways, the Eastern and Run-Around Sue. Lupus Lunar features for the first time. Describing themselves as "Earworm Rock" the band features local musician Dylan Hawes. Feature acts for the Festival of Lights in 2012 will be the Unfaithful Ways headed by our own Marlon Williams, who by the time of the festival may have won some music awards in Gore and Lindon Puffin promoting his new album Hope Holiday plus many of his older and most popular songs.

Al says when it comes to the festival he's often asked about the running order. "Line ups are determined by the demographics", he says. This is a family festival in the early hours of the evening and then it moves to the adult crowd later in the evening so he selects the line ups to mirror the audiences. He enthuses about his involvement in the event and you can tell that he never tires from putting on events. He knows what works. He knows how to create something that looks seamless and effortless. He loves show casing our talented artists. He enjoys that as a community we are totally self sufficient. "We have all the talents here to create our special events. How amazing is that?" After all these years he's still really enthusiastic about the festival and says "helping the team connects me back to this community plus gives me a big buzz and loads of satisfaction. I love it".

Lyttelton's Resident Lawyer

Meet: Ray Blake - Mactodd

Few small towns are fortunate to have the diverse talent and skill that we have right on our door step. One such talented individual is the infamous Ray Blake. Many will recognise Ray, and as he prepares to relocate his legal practice back onto London Street, we wanted to learn more. Ray's working career started in the Police force, and he moved to Sydney for a few years, returning to Christchurch to study law. Ray moved to Alexandra soon after graduating with his law degree; became a partner in the firm there, and then moved to Wanaka in 1996 to open his own firm. Initially Ray specialised in litigation; in Wanaka he was drawn into other areas of law including: property conveyancing, subdivision, business buying and selling, commercial leases, trusts, resource management and estates; and still retaining an interest and practise in matrimonial law.

Ray moved to Lyttelton at the start of October 2008, arriving around 8pm on a Friday night, and being aware of the Lava Bar, Ray dropped his bags onto the floor and quickly came to realise that the Lava Bar and he "got on just fine". The next night Ray watched The Butler at The Loons, and by Sunday was enjoying the musical talents of Carmel Courtney on Freemans deck. In Ray's words "the die was cast" and he was here to stay.

After February 22, Ray says he was lucky to immediately rent 24 Dublin Street, and to this day Ray is using a Bunnings fold out picnic table as his desk. With humour he exclaims "funny how you get used to things. From being one of the partners in a reasonably large firm in Wanaka, now I do it all – I get the mail, print the letters, take copies, lick the stamps – all the while try and give practical efficient legal advice, whatever it takes! And I am loving it!"

Here in Lyttelton Ray's diverse skills suits the needs of Lyttelton residents; and if you think you have a problem that will have Ray heading for the law books, his Queenstown office has a huge depth of experience and expertise which can be called on at any time. Since September 2010, Ray's skills are in demand. With a background in resource management he is familiar with applications for consent, existing use rights, development levies and such like. In addition there are the negotiations for residents battling insurance companies and EQC for fair and prompt payouts for the total damage sustained. And all the time, Ray has been in thick of all this un settlement on a personal level so he knows what people are going through.

Having been located in temporary premises on Dublin Street, Ray says now is the time to get some permanency back into his life. Over the weekend of 19 May, he is moving the Mactodd office to the rooms above Bells Pharmacy at 50 London Street. Entry to Ray's new office is a few metres down the access way between Bells Pharmacy and Portico. The stairs inside the door take you up to his rooms, and clients should note that while the stairs are historically steep, Ray is very happy to meet with you at the bottom of the stairs, or in the car – you just need to give him a call.

Ray says that "Lyttelton has been very supportive of having a local solicitor living and working in their midst. I guess they get legal experience and advice without having to head into town and all that entails now. I very much appreciate that support. I try and work just from Tuesday to Friday but am always happy to see people out of hours. As I have always said, it costs nothing to make an appointment and pop into the office to see if I can help you. That is still the case."

"Old" Lyttelton Gathering

Lyttelton Community House Event at Lyttelton Club

Lyttelton Community House, in association with the Lyttelton Club, wishes to invite all "old" Lyttelton locals to a social gathering being held at the Lyttelton Club, Friday 18th May from 6.00pm. This gathering is for old Lyttelton to come together to share stories and reminisce about the history of our home town.

As we all know, we are fortunate to have been raised in such a unique place and that there is a bond between locals that is not understood by others. We have come from generations of families that have shared so many of the same experiences, so we have many stories.

For those who are no longer with us, we encourage family members to share their stories for them, as these are legacies left for us to carry and then pass on to the next generation. These stories deserve to be recorded so that "what was", will always be remembered. There will be an opportunity for stories to be recorded during the evening.

So to all of you out there living locally or further afield, come along and have a night of fun and laughter. There will be live music and a light supper as part of the evening.

You are welcome to bring along your old photos and memorabilia. No cover charge.

Master of Ceremony: John Fitzgerald

Local Film Maker: Richard Humphreys

On the Brink of New Beginnings

Harbour Co-Op Needs More Members

Lyttelton's proposed Harbour Co-Operative needs just a few more people to form the first consumer co-operative grocery store in New Zealand since the gold mining days of the 1860's. The process started from the seed of an idea last year when the current owners of Piko Wholefoods decided to sell the Lyttel Piko business after the February 22 earthquake.

Over the past several months a tireless volunteer team of people, including: Brian Rick, Dana Dopleach, Doug Jenkinson, Heather Lander, Jenny Garing, Kerry Donnelly, Marysia Krawczyk, Nina Srot and others, have dedicated their time to building the framework around turning Lyttel Piko into a community-owned cooperative.

In March the Harbour Co-Op was registered at the Companies Office, with the prospectus, investment statement and application details released on 28 March. This means that the customers and residents of the Lyttelton Harbour region have been given the opportunity to buy shares in a new cooperative and become its owners.

calling all community groups

The Lyttelton Review has been designed to help keep Harbour residents informed. It is a tool to be used for sharing information, and is widely circulated across residents, business and media contacts. A great way to find out what has happened during the year from our community organisations is to read their Chairpersons AGM summaries. If you would like to share your AGM reports, or any other information as required. with the wider community we'd love to hear from you.

free weekly shopping bus

Lyttelton Community House are using their community van for a weekly shopping run into town for Lyttelton residents without easy travel alternatives to supermarkets. They will be going to New World South City and Pak n Save. So if you find transport to your weekly shop to be a challenge, the Lyttelton Community House encourage you to utilise this service. Every Wednesday 1.00pm Lyttelton Community House, 7 Dublin Street, Lyttelton. Contact Courtenay 03 741 1427.

Harbour Co-Op Needs More Members

Priced at $365 per share [being one share per household], around 130 people have applied and paid for a share in the Harbour Co-Op over the past six weeks raising more than $48,000. With just a few more people the Lyttel Piko business can be purchased by the Harbour Co-Op for the Lyttelton community.

For shareholders, the benefits will include price breaks on selected items, bulk buying discounts, access to workshops and seminars, more open sharing of information, and potentially profit sharing.

But more importantly – the Lyttelton Harbour community will retain this grocery shop in our community, and members will have a direct say in how the shop is run. All members/owners will have an equal vote on major issues and will elect a board of directors which will steer and oversee the operations of the business.

Talk about a “Lyttel town that could”!

Harbour Co-Op Workshops

Although the Harbour Co-Op may not be trading yet, it doesn't mean that there are no benefits of membership. Starting on Wednesday, May 16th from 4-5pm, the Harbour Co-op will be hosting weekly workshops aimed to educate and empower our members to feed and heal their own bodies. Alternate times will be available in the future to suit different schedules.

This Week: Pantry Basics | Bread Making

Giulio Sturla of Tommy Chang's Café will be a key presenter – focusing on making the ‘basic pantry’ items that get consumed daily – bread, pasta, tomato sauce, yoghurt, and practical skills for every kitchen. Book quickly before everyone hears about how amazing these multi-course meals are.

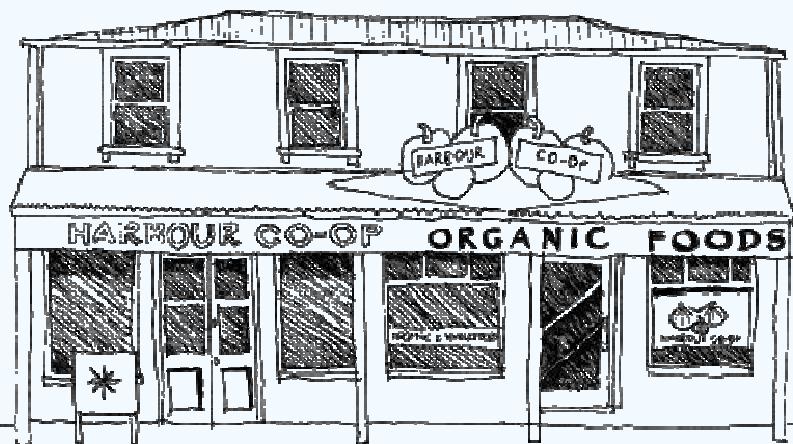

Giulio is a culinary master who honed his craft at some of the top restaurants in the world and has now brought his passion for locally produced, no-corners-cut, honest food made with love to London Street, next to the Lyttelton Petanque Club. For more about Giulio, visit his blog:

<http://giulioturla.wordpress.com/>

Monthly schedules will be available at the shop and on-line. Limited spaces are available [up to 12] and reservations are made at the Lyttel Piko shop, with members paying only $5 per session [koha is encouraged] as opposed to $20 for non-members. Extra costs may apply for materials.

No Hall, No Problem for Bill

Contra Dancing Returns to Lyttelton

In many communities across the country, if you wanted to organise a dance night you would hire the local hall. But here in Lyttelton the hall has been closed due to earthquake damage. Not one to be deterred, Bill and Liz Baritompa have started hosting contra dance nights, every Thursday from 7.30pm, at their home in Cass Bay.

Meeting Bill and Liz for the first time, any pre thought that you might be invading their private space is quickly dispelled. From the genuinely warm and inviting greeting, one is led through to a light and open living space with purpose built wall to wall timber flooring for dancing and soaring ceilings. With plenty of chairs scattered around the outer edges of the room, this is a space that calls out to the dancer within – even to those of us with two left feet!

Bill has been involved in music and dance “pretty much all his life”. Previously known for forming a bush band and hosting barn dances, Bill is actively involved in the monthly contra dance nights at the Addington school hall where anywhere between 40 to 60 people arrive to join in the fun and social outing. In terms of ability and age, both according to Bill are quite diverse. Beginners, so long as they can count to eight, will enjoy an evening just as much as a well seasoned dancer, with the age group varying from teenagers to grandparents.

With step by step instruction, contra dance nights are an all inclusive environment, and not a class environment. The philosophy behind contra dancing is quite simple: relax and just have fun - with lots of clapping, stomping, laughter and music too. Contra dance nights are about getting out of the house, meeting new people, having some fun and being social – the perfect recipe for those winter nights ahead.

Part of the enjoyment of contra dancing, is the live music. In Addington, more often than not, the band on the night is a “scratch band” – one that is formed by the musicians who arrive on the night. Here in Lyttelton, it is envisaged that at least once a month live music can be organised, and Bill is keen on supporting up and coming local musicians to achieve this.

What: Contra Dancing

Cost: $5.00 per night / $10 with a Band

Where: Cass Bay – Contact Bill for Map and Details

When: Every Thursday night
Arrive after 7.15pm for dancing from 7.30pm

Contact: Bill Baritompa 03 328 8985

Supporting TimeBank: If you are a Timebank member, talk to Bill about Lyttelton time bank hours to participate, and if you are a musician who would like to be involved – also talk to Bill.

lyttelton market town

Saturday mornings are never dull in Lyttelton! Enjoy the local markets including the Lyttelton Farmers Market for fresh produce, meat, fish, eggs, honey and yummy baked goods. Head up to the Grassy Art and Craft Market for bargain items or unique art items from creative local artists. Also be sure to check out the Community Garage Sale located up the driveway behind the swimming pool. The Garage Sale is a fundraising activity for any Lyttelton community group; so if you're not buying, feel free to donate items instead.

plenty to share

In Lyttelton so many residents grow vegetables; or have fruit trees literally dripping with produce. Plenty to Share is about sharing any excess produce with the community. So if your lemon tree is yellow with goodness and you can't keep up with making lemon curd or drinking enough gin and tonics, bring those surplus fruits down to the organisers, where every Wednesday between 3pm and 6pm the swapping of produce is well underway. If there is something on the Plenty to Share table that you would like to take home, then you are warmly invited to do so. You will find Plenty to Share on the corner of London Street and Canterbury Street.

Oxford Street Over Bridge

Temporary Repairs to Being

Lyttelton Port Company are constantly monitoring and undertaking inspections of structures around our Port. These inspections have revealed damage to the last span on the Jetty 2 side of the Oxford Street over bridge.

To provide additional support to the bridge our engineers, Concrete Protection and Repair [CPR], and our Civil Maintenance team will undertake work to strengthen and secure this area. This will involve making connections between the bridge spans and installing temporary prop beams alongside.

During this work a 50m section at the northern end of the Oxford St over bridge will be reduced down to one lane. Fulton Hogan have confirmed a traffic management plan and have proposed to have the cordon and signage in place early this week. Work is scheduled to take two weeks.

With the traffic reduced to one lane, ferry passengers and other pedestrians must now take extra care to keep to the footpath as buses and bulk cargo trucks will still have access on the over bridge.

Any queries should be directed to Tristan Williams, Project Manager, on 027 444 0352 email: tristan.williams@lpc.co.nz. We apologise for any inconvenience and thank you for your support during this time of ongoing earthquake-related repair works.

Live Music Saturday

Naval Point Yacht Club

As part of New Zealand Music Month, this weekend there will be two bands playing at the Naval Point Yacht Club: Blackmark feature Martin Blackmore and Simon Marks and play a Bluesy/Americana style and The Phonolites revolve around Lytteltons' Gavin Buxton and they play a mix of covers and originals. A short opening will be played by Al Park. Entry $5.00. Music starts 8.00pm

Live Music Sunday

Lyttelton Club

This Sunday at the Lyttelton 'Top' Club: Davey from the Black Velvet band plays under the name of Backyard Davey. This is a really good solo show. No cover charge.

Lyttelton Petanque Club

Register Your Events | Volunteer clean up day

The team from Gap Filler just love how the Lyttelton Petanque Club site has become such a natural community meeting space. But this is a reminder to all of us who want to hold events there, that the site is not owned by the community. Tom and Helen, the owners, have generously agreed to allow Gap Filler to temporary use the site. Gap Filler are responsible for the public liability insurance on site and need to list all activities to ensure valid insurance cover and cover their obligations to Tom and Helen. Please notify Trent Hiles for any event you plan to hold at the site. Trent's contact email address is trenthiles@gmail.com. Trent's and the Gap Filler team are also calling for volunteers for a site clean up prior to the Festival of Lights. The working bee will be Saturday May 19th from 2.00pm. In case of bad weather Sunday May 20th is the alternative date. More hands make lighter work. Everyone welcome.

c'mon get involved

Do you want to be a giant fish? ...or a phoenix, or a moving volcano? Or perhaps help at mask making events or with organizing the green room for the performers on the night? The Lyttelton Harbour Festival of Lights is approaching and we need many volunteers in numerous different roles from the outlandish to the more predictable. This is Lyttelton's winter gem so step on up and be a part of the action. Contact Sue-Ellen at the Project Lyttelton office to find out about all the volunteer roles and how you can be involved. Phone 03 328 9243 or email office@lyttelton.net.nz

Lyttelton's Lazy Dog Owners

Doggy Doo No Joke

Did you notice these comments along London St this week?

Did you wonder who wrote them?

Many thanks to Lyttelton Kidz First Kindergarten for cleaning up all this dog poo. There was so much of it around. Our young children shouldn't have to be cleaning up all this mess. C'mon dog owners, please look after your dogs and tidy up when they foul the pavement!

Corsair Bay Sea Wall [South]

Work started last week on the scheduled rebuild of the sea wall on the south side off the beach at Corsair Bay. Work involves removing of the existing rock, placing of filter fabric to prevent removal of material by wave action, importing larger sized rock to form the toe of the wall and replacement of the existing rock over the filter fabric. The wall will be reformed at a less steep angle to better dissipate the energy of the waves during storm events. Work is likely to be completed with the week.

ANZAC Day Poppy Appeal

The Lyttelton RSA Charitable Trust wishes to sincerely thank the Lyttelton Harbour and Bays community for their very generous support of our annual Poppy Day Appeal in support of the welfare needs of our Defence Force veterans. The Poppy Appeal this year collected a total of $2,956.80 with a couple of collection boxes yet to come in so we are hopeful of topping $3,000.00.

The Trust Deed provides that the purpose is to provide financial welfare support for veterans and specifically named organisations or activities such as Rannerdale Ware Veterans Home and Hospital, provision of ANZAC Day Services, and support for the Lyttelton St John Ambulance Service. It also provides for specific purpose grants and donations to local community support and service organisations such as Scout groups, Defence Force Cadet units and other Lyttelton emergency services such as the volunteer Fire Service.

Poppy Appeal funds collected are specifically ring fenced and are accumulated into a set purpose trust account and may only be used for the provision of welfare grants to returned and service veterans.

Lyttelton Museum and Historical Society AGM

The Lyttelton Museum and Historical society are having their AGM on Sunday 3rd June in Lyttelton Main School hall at 2pm. New members will be warmly welcomed. We have monthly meetings that will be the last Saturday of the month at 10am in L.M.S. hall from June 30th. Dates are Saturday June 30th, July 28th, August 25th, September 29th, October 27th, November 24th. For more information contact Liza Rossi via email: liza.rossie@gmail.com looking for reading material

A book swap has been operating from the Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre for some time. Thank you to all the lovely residents who keep dropping books in. This service is available to all local residents, simply just pop in, choose a book, and then return it or another when you are finished. Borrow or swap - it's your call.

If you are looking for reading material on economics, the transition movement, sustainability, alternative currencies and community development then check out the LIFT Library that has recently started. Contact Juliet Adams on 328 8139 for more information.

Glowing Feedback

For Local Business

With all the wonderful people, community groups, events and volunteers helping to make Lyttelton the unique, diverse and interesting place it is - sometimes it can be easy to overlook the businesses that make London Street what it is. Our local retailers have each made a commitment to stay in Lyttelton despite the significant drop in foot traffic and retail challenges.

Last week the Lyttelton Review created a small promotional addition to acknowledge the dedicated group of retailers on London Street, and to say that if you're looking for a retail experience that delivers big on being local, take a walk down London Street - and be sure to tell all your friends too!

In response to this promotion, we received this email from Pete and Kate:

Hello Lyttelton Review team

Our locals should not forget the business right at the western end of London Street. Up on the corner of London Street just above the tunnel is Tissiman House repairs. The team there have done a fantastic job on our place and are highly recommended. They understand our unique properties and have trades people who can work in with EQC, Fletchers or complete the jobs you want done yourselves. Try them on phone 328 7585. Regards Pete and Kate, Lyttelton.

Oops!

The Lyttelton Review would like to apologise to the London Street Dairy, who were mistakenly left off the list of businesses in the promotional material that went out last week.

Future Plans for Godley House | Stoddart Point

Community Gathering Saturday 19 May, 9.30am to 3.30pm

Everyone is welcome and encouraged to come along to the Stage Room, Community Hall on Saturday 19 May to look at and comment on all the ideas we as a community have put forward to date. All the ideas have been grouped and used to develop the next stage of the community vision for Stoddart Point.

What will be on display:

- lots of examples of similar sized developments for you to indicate your preference in terms of style, character, scale, combination of facilities. This way we can continue to get closer to determining how a new development will look here in Diamond Harbour
- information on SPRIG; who we are, what progress we've made
- funding options being pursued
- a timeline for this community planning and what we want at the end
- other short and medium term projects planned by SPRIG
- a collection of images from the Historical Society of Godley House and Stoddart Point
- lots to see and comment on!

There will be people there on the day to discuss any ideas or queries you may have and we hope to have some people from the Council in attendance as well. Please check out our website www.spring.org.nz nearer to the day to see specific times when the Council may be in attendance. Also look out at the library, shops and on the DH website www.diamondharbour.info for any extra information regarding this day as it comes to hand. Hope to see as many of you there as possible so we can continue to represent the whole community.

LIFT Library

Winter has certainly arrived, after glorious sunny warm days. Curling up with a good book now seems more attractive than going out into the wild weather! More books have just arrived at the LIFT Library, and while the librarian Juliet hasn't had time to read them all yet, here is some information on them.

Addicted to War: Why the United States Can't Kick Militarism

Author: Joel Andreas.

This is a kind of comic book – its information is not very funny, but the illustrations lighten the mood and make the points clearly. Every piece of information is carefully annotated at the back. A comment by Ramsey Clark, a former U.S. attorney general, says it all: "The enormous criminal impact of U.S. militarism on the people of the world and the U.S. is hard to grasp. This book makes it easier to understand. Now we must act."

How Communities Heal: Stories of Social Innovation and Social Change

Author: Vivian Hutchinson and NZ Social Entrepreneur Fellowship

This book tells the stories of a unique group of New Zealand social entrepreneurs who are bringing insight, entrepreneurship and practical hope to our social and environmental challenges. The book profiles the personal stories of these innovators, and looks at the projects and programmes they are creating. There is also a series of articles from Vivian Hutchinson on entrepreneurship and innovation, and the tools and ideas that are helping make these projects happen.

Psychology for a Better World: Strategies to Inspire Sustainability

Author: Niki Harre

This book is for people who believe it is worth trying to make a world in which both our species and the ecological systems we are part of can flourish. The book is based on the latest research in psychology and is jam-packed with action strategies. It offers new ways to think about how people interact in social settings, why we are tempted to stick with what we know, and how the same characteristics that currently keep us hooked into unsustainable practices can be used to move us forward. The final chapter is a guide to help you analyse what you are doing to contribute towards a better world, and how you can be more effective while simultaneously increasing your personal wellbeing.

The LIFT Library also offers range of magazines and DVD's for loan please just ask Juliet for more information.

To become a member of the LIFT Library, based right here in Lyttelton, contact Juliet Adams on 03 328 8139 or mobile 021 899 404, for more information.

matariki celebration 2012

Rapaki Pā will come alive for Matariki with a series of events focused around this year's theme: the celebration of cultural diversity through the sharing of dance and music on Saturday 2 June, from 10.00am to 2.00pm. Experience a family day of entertainment, interactive participation, and fun. The Rapaki Pā wishes to extend a warm invitation to all cultural dance and music groups around the Lyttelton Harbour basin, who would like to participate on the day. The day will begin with a Pōwhiri, at 10.00am then the dance groups and music groups will perform on an outdoor stage set in a marquee. Contact Wendy at Lyttelton Community House 03 741 1427.

Inspiring Stories

Lyttelton Visit

A chance phone call from Lu Davidson and Guy Ryan from the Inspiring Stories Trust Road Show resulted in a short notice film evening at Lyttelton Main School.

The Trust promotes films from New Zealand's young film makers and currently they are touring New Zealand showing the films and hosting workshops. Supported by Vodafone and the NZ Film Commission the trust aims to inspire us and in particular young people.

The hit for the evening was James Muir's "Love in a Little Town" featuring Lyttelton's own Sue-Ellen Sandilands. Lucie Ozane also featured in a short feature about the Canterbury Vodafone grant recipients of which the Lyttelton Tennis Club was a recipient.

All the films we watched are available on line. We recommend a night in to watch them:

Love in a Little Town James Muir

A little film, about a little town at the epicentre of a big earthquake. When everything is stripped back by disaster it reveals what is at the heart of a resilient neighbourhood... It's the love, time and energy of its people. <http://vimeo.com/25383485>

Carving the Future (25 Mins) Guy Ryan & Nick Holmes

Follow four passionate young Kiwi's leading large-scale action projects, woven together with a beautiful skateboarding aesthetic and the 350.org global day of action. Carving the Future is an inspirational account of how one person can make a difference! www.carvingthefuture.com

River Dog (25 Mins) by James Muir + Oscar Hunter

In the remote New Zealand countryside the underbelly of a farming community continues to pollute the water and destroy the last remaining natural values of the Pahaoa River. One farmer and his team of dogs challenge the status quo, battling against all odds to protect the river. www.riverdog.com

Without Rain (15 Mins) by Splashroom Media

Set in stunning West Nepal, 'Without Rain' is a simple story about a rural community that comes together to confront the challenges of climate change. <http://sfgreenfilmfest.org/festival/screening-room/>

Below the Line (10 Mins) by Dan Harris + Komako Silver

From the 2011 Inspiring Stories Film Competition this short Documentary about Will Watterson leading the first-time 'Live Below the Line' challenge in New Zealand. <http://www.inspiringstories.org.nz/film-competition/2011-winners/>

Bellah (4 Mins) by Johanna Hertwich

From the 2011 Inspiring Stories Film Competition this story follows a young woman's struggle through adversity to make something of herself and give back to her community. <http://www.inspiringstories.org.nz/film-competition/2011-winners/>

Bikes for Africa (4 Mins) by Richard Sidey + Hap Cameron

Bikes for Africa is an entertaining, insightful and daringly honest documentary following the adventures of Hap Cameron and Mandy Todd in their attempt to help implement a self sustainable bike workshop in rural Namibia with a container load of secondhand bikes from Melbourne. Trailer only. <http://www.bikesforafrica.net/index.html>

entertainment books

The Lyttelton Harbour Business Association will once again be selling the Entertainment Book as a fundraiser for the Association. These are always incredible value and will pay for themselves in just a couple of outings as well as providing inspiration for the rest of the year. Books will be available from the London Street Dairy from mid-May at a cost of $65 each. To reserve a book, please email andrew.turner@clear.net.nz with the number of books you require.

Where Being Green is All White

Local Cass Bay resident Mary Bedford is repainting her house roof white in response to a study undertaken by Concordia University in Canada that painting roofs white and using light-coloured materials to surface roads and pavements would not only make places cooler in summer, it would save the same amount of carbon as taking all the cars in the world off the roads for 50 years.

Mary says that "It is a brilliant and simple way to go green. So appropriate for Christchurch when many new roofs are being made or older ones repainted. Our roof is half white now!".

White Roofs is a simple idea offering one of the fastest and lowest cost ways of helping reduce global warming by mimicking how the polar icecaps reflect sunlight back into space and cool the planet.

Sunlight falling on a flat white roof is significantly reflected back through the atmosphere into space, but sunlight on a dark roof is mostly absorbed and converted into heat, which can't pass back into space because it is blocked by the greenhouse gases in the atmosphere. The atmosphere is transparent to sunlight but opaque to the much longer wavelengths of heat and that is why a white roof helps cool the planet and a dark roof warms the planet.

100 square metre of flat white roof cancels roughly 10 tonne CO2 emissions. Researchers at the Heat Island Group, Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory, California in a 2009 study found that a flat white roof of 100 square metre (the size of an average house in Lyttelton without a garage), produces annual global cooling that cancels the warming of roughly 10 tonne of CO2 emissions.

Their research also indicates that: "If roofs are changed from their current dark colour to white for flat roofs and cool colours for sloped roofs for urban areas around the world, we can offset 24 billion tonnes of CO2 ... it's the equivalent of taking half of the cars in the world (300 million cars) off the road for every year of the 20 year life time of the paint."

Leading the WhiteRoof movement are residents of Waihi Beach who have a higher proportion of white roofs than any other suburb in New Zealand. Of the houses sampled in this example aerial image, twenty one homes of the forty five have white or off-white roofs. According to Whiteroofs.org.nz, it seems that people in Waihi Beach go white because they feel the heat there in summer, and some deliberately choose white knowing the benefits.

Discount on roof paint

Resene Paints are offering a generous discount on roof paint to people painting white in response to the White Roofs Project, we are happy to say. This is for white and off-white roof paint. The discount is available through a discount letter only available by contacting ian@whiteroofs.org.nz.

Resene's discount offer also extends to their CoolColour roof paint as a valuable alternative for example in districts where town planning regulations allow only dark, or in cases where an immediate neighbour's house is overlooking your roof and you feel an off-white might cause glare to them, or for those not that keen on a white roof but want to do something about global warming.

For more information on this topic visit: www.whiteroofs.org.nz

dare to care

Dare to Care, enables all New Zealanders to easily identify and buy Christchurch made products and services. By buying these branded items you can help businesses, families, communities and the city rebuild. Campaign creator, Declan Scott of She Chocolat says "seismic events in Christchurch have given local businesses a renewed sense of purpose and have seen the need to take a more active and involved part in supporting the community." CanCERN Green Zone Expo

What do You Want to Learn

CanCERN has been on CERA's case for a long time now about getting meaningful information out to those in the Green Zones. The idea of an "Expo" of some sort has been floated and seems to be gaining traction. There are pros and cons to holding an expo.

On the plus side, you are more likely to get all the players involved to an Expo and over a greater period of time you can go from one to the other until you have the information you need, and it makes sense. It is also a good way to hold information to account if you can eyeball each other across the room! There's also the space factor - video screens can be erected, concrete examples can be brought in, different things can be happening in different areas catering to different groups.

On the down side, there's a risk the information is too generic to provide real clarity for your situation, there's the issue of crowds all trying to get their needs met and any expo is likely to be on the other side of town to where the affected communities are.

CanCERN are trying to get a sense of what people need answers to right now, by whom and in what way. They will be feeding this information into the CERA Community Wellbeing and Communications staff and giving them some direction on the best way to progress. CanCERN in no way want to let any more communication come out that misses the 'bottom line' of things that need to be understood so this is your opportunity to state what those bottom lines. But an expo can only be as good as the information CanCERN can get from you.

You can help make sure any such event meets your needs best by taking a few minutes to fill in the survey form which takes just a few short minutes. Please encourage others to do so as well. Please note: having an 'expo' does not mean there will not be more localised information sharing. This survey is an indicator, not a plan.

Take time to complete the CanCERN survey at this link:

Council Recovery Plans Win National Planning Awards

Earthquake recovery plans developed by the Christchurch City Council have won two best practice awards at the annual New Zealand Planning Institute Awards. The Council's Draft Central City Recovery Plan for the redevelopment of the Central City won the Best Practice Award: Strategic Planning and Guidance and the Sydenham and Lyttelton Master Plans won the Best Practice Award: Consultation and Participation Strategies. The awards recognise outstanding creativity, innovation and service.

The Awards Panel also acknowledged the challenging post-disaster circumstances under which the Plan was prepared, with its short timeframe, significant public interest and uncertainty over the changing physical, economic and legislative environments. The extent of the consultation process for the Sydenham and Lyttelton Master Plans impressed the Awards Panel, from the site visits with community leaders, issue-specific focus groups, meetings with project stakeholders, public feedback presentations and submission opportunities to an understanding of people's physical and emotional loss, design and development ideas, and practical resource and investment realities.

"The process to develop the Sydenham and Lyttelton Draft Master Plans was a significant step in the recovery and regeneration of these two damaged centres. The Plans have addressed urgent core elements in the centres and provided emergency solutions to address the community's needs in the context of a clear long-term plan."
