London Street: From Strength to Strength

Against the odds and rising up out from the rubble our Lyttel main street is fighting back with support from visionary business owners dedicated and determined to put Lyttelton back on the map. Today there is no denying that London Street is showing clear signs of a strong recovery. Every available retail building is now either fully occupied, or undergoing the final stages of being fitted out for re-opening in the near future.

Civil and Naval: A New Local

The most recent addition to the main street is the opening of Civil and Naval – a new bar and restaurant that opened last week at No.16 London Street [next door to Coffee Culture]. It is a collaborative project between Jeremy and Clare Dyer who have owned and operated the Governors Bay Hotel since 2003 and their son, Louis Dyer who will manage the business. Sean Hendley, formerly of Edesia and more recently, St. Ali, Melbourne will head the kitchen.

The Civil and Naval premises have been designed to a rustic industrial chic layout and are contained within classic French bistro proportions with a long marble bar sourced from the Savoy Theatre's stairs. The name, Civil and Naval, is a nod to the buildings history dating back to 1924, where J. Ludlow was a long established tailor catering for Civil and Naval.

Civil and Naval will be open daily from Wednesday through to Sunday initially, from 11am until late and opening at 9.00am on the weekends. A tapas or small plate style menu will be available all day accompanied promoting shared dining accompanied by a wide range of craft beers on tap, an eclectic wine list, original and innovative cocktails and a wide range of whiskeys.

Unique and Quality High Street Retail

Lyttelton now offers a collection of unique and quality high street retailers including: God Save the Queen; Maree Henry Trading [was Portico]; Coastal Living; Himalaya Design, Milly May; Sno Clothes; Bells Pharmacy; Leslies Bookshop with 10001 magazines; and an antique shop and second hand book store [yet to be named] now open Tuesday to Saturday next to Bells Pharmacy.

Harbour Foodies Paradise

If you are a self confessed foodie, then you can't go past Lyttelton's newest delicatessen Harris and Turner; or the ever popular Harbour Co-Op. And if you're feeling peckish while you are here, then stop in to one of Lyttelton's highly rated restaurants or cafes including Freemans, Roots, Everest Indian, Fishermans Wharf, Port View at The Club, Tommy Chang's, Porthole, Irish Bar, Coffee Culture or SAMOS coffee on Canterbury Street.

Live Entertainment, Almost Daily

For those who seek to be entertained, you will find that Lyttelton must surely be the live music centre of Christchurch. Be sure to check out the back page of the Lyttelton Review each week for live music events held regularly at Tommy Chang's, Porthole Bar, Wunderbar, Naval Point Club or up at the Lyttelton Club.

So next time you are in Lyttelton take some time to stop and marvel at the real development and progress being made over here. Because here at the Lyttelton Harbour Review we believe Lyttelton has officially picked itself up, and dusted itself off. So come on over to Lyttelton, the place in Christchurch where it is all finally happening!

New Life for Grubb Cottage

Heritage Home Opens Saturday 24 August

Historic and unique, Lyttelton's Grubb Cottage of 62 London Street welcomes people to view a snapshot of life 150 years ago.

Strengthening work carried out on Grubb Cottage prior to the Canterbury earthquakes was instrumental in getting the building to 86 per cent of the New Building Standards. As a result, though there is still some work to do on the cottage to stabilise the fireplace, the building can be used and in a double win, Grubb Cottage is also now able to be visited by the public.

The cottage sustained a small amount of earthquake damage, mostly confined to cracking and separation of the exterior weatherboards, some settlement of the floor and loosening of a number of bricks from the internal fireplace. However, by blocking off access to the room that contains the fireplace, the Council was able to give the go-ahead for the cottage to re-open.

The Grubb Cottage Trustees have been working to get the building's designated use changed. Permission was granted by the Council in July 2013 for Grubb Cottage to have public access [previously it was residential only], so this allows it to be used as a museum and public building.

The Trust will initially be opening the cottage on Saturday mornings from 10am until noon for people to view this historic treasure. The first public opening is this Saturday 24 August 2013.

Terry Howes, Acting General Manager City Environment Group, says Grubb Cottage is of considerable historical significance. "It's great that we still have this building because so many have gone. Grubb Cottage represents a true snapshot of early European life in Canterbury and was built soon after organised European settlement by the Canterbury Association and the arrival of the first four ships. It is now one of the earliest surviving domestic buildings left in Canterbury."

Grubb Cottage was owned by prominent early Lyttelton settler John Grubb and his family for more than 100 years. Grubb made a significant contribution to early Lyttelton society such as helping to build the first jetty in Lyttelton which welcomed passengers from the First Four Ships in 1850. Later on his son became Mayor of Lyttelton.

Historic Places Trust: Category 2

Grubb Cottage was built in two stages. The rear portion dated around 1851 is stated to be "probably the oldest surviving relatively original cottage of the Canterbury Settlement. The front part dates from the 1890s. The cottage was built for shipwright John Grubb, who had been contracted in 1849 to build the first Lyttelton jetty. A builder and the father of a later mayor of Lyttelton, Grubb lived there until his death in 1898. The cottage remained in family hands until 1961.

Grubb Cottage was designed in Victorian Combined Box House or Cottage style typical of the early period of settlement in New Zealand. The style was used throughout New Zealand in the 1850s and 1860s and is well represented in the national register in areas such as Northland, Wanganui, and Canterbury. Grubb Cottage followed the conventional pattern described by Jeremy Salmond where the original unpretentious and simple rectangular weatherboarded cottage was added to in later years with a more stylish frontage often incorporating a bay and a verandah, although in the case of Grubb Cottage the family preferred a large gable dormer to a bay addition. The development of the style was logical, and it reflected the changing requirements, both social and economic, of the average New Zealand Victorian family over a fifty year period beginning with the first generation.

Remarkably, the place seems not to have changed in the intervening one hundred years since it was last added to.

Time to Move Forward

Repairs Requested for Dr Upham Memorial Clock

In a letter from the Lyttelton Museum Committee to the Lyttelton Mt Herbert Community Board, the Lyttelton Museum Committee have raised the question of repairs to the historic Lyttelton landmark, the Dr Upham Memorial Clock Tower in the rose gardens on Oxford Street.

For those who are unaware of the clock towers history, it was erected almost sixty years ago in September 1953 as a tribute to Dr Charles Hazlitt Upham. Dr Upham first came to Lyttelton as a young naval surgeon, and took over the local medical practice in 1898. His wife refused to immigrate to New Zealand, so Dr Upham never saw his own son. Putting all his energy into his work, Dr Upham served the Lyttelton community for half a century.

In oral histories, Lyttelton's senior residents still talk about Dr Upham's selfless generosity working with poor families during the flu epidemic of 1918, and the depression in the 1930s, giving even his own clothing to patients in need and often never charging for medical visits.

The Little Doctor, as he was fondly referred to, used to walk around Lyttelton to visit his patients, always accompanied by his Jack Russell Terrier. He was offered a knighthood, but in his modesty he declined saying he had only done his job.

The Upham Clock on Oxford Street is the town peoples' memorial to him. Dr Upham was most upset when the bell and clock tower was dismantled in 1944 from the Lyttelton Post Office [what was on the corner of Oxford Street and Norwich Quay]. So the people of Lyttelton thought a new clock tower would be a fitting memorial to him when he died in 1950.

Local resident Mr David Bundy was in charge of a millennium project which involved restoring the damaged timepiece, a computer operated mechanism was installed at the base of the tower and the clock had kept perfect time for Lyttelton until the February 2011 earthquake.

With a fast approaching sixty year anniversary of the Upham Clock, members of the Lyttelton Museum Committee are seeking support to have this timepiece back working again - for Lyttelton and in continued memory of an outstanding Lyttelton resident.

Calling Heritage Owners and Enthusiasts

Christchurch City Council is calling for owners of heritage buildings and places, and anyone with a particular heritage interest to run open days, tours or organise walks as part of a one-off heritage event in October. Co-ordinated by the Council, Reconnect: experience heritage will be held over three days from October 18-20th 2013, offering the community an opportunity to reconnect with the city and peninsula's heritage following the earthquakes.

The event will kick off with a one-day forum on Friday October 18, co-ordinated by the New Zealand Historic Places Trust. A range of speakers will discuss heritage repair and recovery issues. Then, over the weekend of October 19 and 20, a host of heritage walks and tours will be held throughout Christchurch and Banks Peninsula. The Council will run its own series of guided walks and tours to update the community on a selection of its heritage assets, while each heritage group or building owner will manage their own event. Council will co-ordinate the programme of events, producing a print and web-based brochure detailing all the events over the two days and will promote the weekend through various media outlets.

"We'd love to hear from anyone in Christchurch and Banks Peninsula who would like their heritage place to be part of this exciting heritage weekend," says Helen Beaumont, Natural Environment and Heritage Unit Manager at Christchurch City Council. "Buildings and places do not have to be listed heritage to take part - we'd like people to be open minded and put forward anything they believe would be of heritage interest to the community. Canterbury still has a great wealth of heritage, and we'd love to give people the opportunity to get up close and personal with as many of these places as possible, all packaged up into one big weekend of reconnection."

Anyone interested in including a heritage building or place in Reconnect: experience heritage is asked to register their interest by August 23 by completing and emailing the attached registration form to heritageevent@ccc.govt.nz or phoning Clare Steel on 941 8789.

Windsurfing Olympians in the Making

Lyttelton Sisters Competing on the World Stage

Xanthe and Fenella Bowater are Lyttelton sisters excelling in windsurfing with views to competing at the Olympic Games in Rio de Janeiro in 2016. Recently the two sisters were selected to represent New Zealand and competed in the 2013 RS:X Open Youth European Windsurfing Championships in Brest, France; and the Open Techno Windsurfing World Championships in Sopot, Poland.

In an email back to Lyttelton, Xanthe reported the following news:

Yesterday was the last day of the World Championships in Sopot. It has been a fantastic regatta where both of us are pleased with our results. Fenella finished 56th overall [19th in silver fleet] and I finished 1st woman and 6th overall [against the men]! Very excited to be bringing home some silverware!

The regatta was great, with a range of testing conditions. Day one was windy with some big gusts coming down the course, it was really important to sail smart in these conditions as the advantages were huge in the pressure.

Fen's regatta started off really well in these conditions as she got a 13th, her best race in the regatta. Day two became more of a survival day for most of the fleet as there were some severe squalls coming down our courses, but I managed to do better in these conditions as they are more alike to what we get to train in Lyttelton. Day three was my best day with a 3rd and a 6th in my ideal conditions - about 10-12 knots, that day I moved up in the fleet to 5th overall. Day four was light winds, conditions that I used to really excel in but for some reason I seemed to have lost my knack for it on this day. Fenella also struggled in the light airs and dropped back a place or so. Day five was yesterday and I went into the day with a very comfortable lead over the other women and only a few points to catch up to the 5th placed man. It was light winds again but with a short, sharp choppy sea, very tricky conditions to keep speed on. Fen's racing went well, especially in the 2nd race where she rounded the top mark in about 10th place after a fantastic start. I had an average day with an 8th and a 6th but both of these places kept me ahead of the other women in the overall points table but I didn't manage to catch 5th place unfortunately.

All in all, it was a great regatta where we performed well, enjoyed ourselves, and met some amazing people. We have really appreciated the support we received from everybody, especially our sponsors, and family, in particular Mum and Dad! We have learnt so much not only at the worlds but at the Europeans in Brest too. It has really been invaluable to our windsurfing and I am sure we will take the knowledge we have gained over here and use it to help improve our fleets at home. It has been particularly inspiring to see such big fleet sizes over here and we can't wait to start encouraging people to get into our sport back in New Zealand.

Once again, a HUGE thank you to all of our wonderful sponsors - we couldn't have done it without every single one of you!

Sponsors for Xanthe and Fenella includes: Lyttelton Mt Herbert Community Board; Lyttelton Engineering; Lyttelton Rotary; Lyttelton Lions; Lyttelton Port Company; Canterbury Windsports Association; Seventh Wave Wetsuits; The Sargood Bequest; Christchurch City Council; Koller and Company; Motivated Design and Analysis; Christchurch Kiwanis; Jeff Gray BMW; Catholic Cathedral College; ATF Fencing; Carl Taylor Homes; Precision Physiotherapy; House of Travel Merivale; Mitre10 Mega Ferrymead; Skullcandy; Grounswell; Ferrymead Medical Centre – and of course, Mum and Dad! And a special thanks to everyone who purchased raffle tickets.

The Tin Palace is the realisation of a dream by the Harbour Arts Collective to provide an opportunity for artists to exhibit in Lyttelton and to provide the local community with access to the arts on their doorstep.

Finalising Lyttelton Civic Square Design

Final Concept to Community Board this Week

One hundred and forty named submissions were received during the Have Your Say consultation period from Monday 10 June to Monday 1 July 2013. Residents, businesses and other stakeholders were asked to give their views on:

- Preferred design option [A] the cenotaph placed at the rear of the site and a waharoa or entranceway at the corner of Canterbury and Lyttelton Streets; or [B] the cenotaph was located at the corner of Canterbury and London Streets.
- Suggested name for the site with the following choices provided: Albion Square, ANZAC Square, Lyttelton Town Square, Lyttelton Petanque Club, Lyttelton Civic Square, or none of the above with a request to provide a suggestion.
- Which of the current transitional works on the site should be retained.

77% of respondents chose to have the cenotaph placed at the rear of the site with an entrance waharoa on the London Street corner.

Caine Tuwhare from Lyttelton's Whakaraupo Carving Centre has been nominated to produce a design for the waharoa, or entrance way into the civic square. The concept idea is a fish hook and anchor bound together to symbolise the coming together of two cultures and also to reflect the area's maritime history dating back more than five centuries. The project team is requesting a structure approximately 4.5 metres high with two 1.5m<sup>2</sup> bases for the anchor and fish hook. Rāpaki Rūnanga support this concept in principle.

Main Changes to the Concept Design Released

- The concept for the waharoa being developed – based on a fishhook and anchor bound together.
- Trees removed from the London Street road reserve to provide a higher degree of openness, visual and physical flow from the street.
- Wharf timbers to be used as retaining around some garden edges and as part of the pergola structure in the bottom south-west corner.
- Community notice board near the London Street frontage. Rubbish bins. Permanent and moveable seating and tables provided.
- Coloured concrete pavers used to create an appropriate weaving pattern on the lower level.
- St Joseph's bell, if donated, to be located in the elevated grassed area near the western boundary.
- Toilet reoriented and screened so that it is less obvious from the performance area.
- Two five minute parking spaces created along Canterbury Street [more consultation required].
- Handrail, where possible, up Canterbury Street to help the elderly access the mid-level tier of the square.
- Red rock-faced retaining wall to provide a future backdrop to highlight aspects of Lyttelton's history.

Public Square Name

Questions in the project feedback form about the name for the square attracted a range of views, with support as follows: Lyttelton Town Square 37%; Albion Square 31%; Lyttelton Civic Square 6%; Lyttelton Petanque Club 4%; ANZAC Square 3%; and none of the Above 37%. A report seeking the Board's recommendation to Council on the name and proposed development plan for Lyttelton's civic square site will be presented to the Lyttelton/Mt Herbert Community Board on Thursday 22 August 2013.

Transitional Art Projects to Stay

Submitters were also asked to indicate which of the seven transitional projects currently in the square should be considered for retention. After considering community feedback and professional advice the project team is recommending that the nautical flag alphabet, mandala tiles and mosaic seat (including the lamp) should be incorporated in the development plan.

Five Minute Parking Spaces

Two P5 parking spaces are proposed in Canterbury Street between the intersection with London Street and the existing vehicle entrance to provide a drop off or short-term access to the cenotaph, unisex toilets and to assist local businesses. These restricted parking spaces, to operate only during business hours, will be the subject of a separate report to the Community Board after appropriate consultation.

No-Smoking Zone

In accordance with the Council's Smoke Free Public Places Policy, approved 25 June 2009, the site at the corner of Canterbury and London Streets will be smoke free and display appropriate signage. Compliance will be voluntary.

Lyttelton Master Plan Suburban Centres Programme

Lyttelton Master Plan Implementation

Update No.5 August 2013

What Has BEEN happening?

Recent progress on actions from the Lyttelton Master Plan by both the Council and community-based project leaders includes:

M6 Access to and from Lyttelton

N4 Head to Head Walkway

C6 Naval Point Amenity Improvements and Redevelopment

In June, the Council allocated the following in its Three Year Plan 2013-16:

$105 million to repair the lifeline route from Sumner to Lyttelton over Evans Pass. Approximately $30 million of this will go towards Sumner Rd, which is expected to take at least 18 months to complete once it is started within the next six months.

Approximately $340,000 to construct the walkway on land it owns, largely during 2014/15.

$15,000 for investigations, drawings and costing to enable a community working party to progress a project to improve the break water and boating safety at Naval Point.

N1 A New Civic Square

Seventy-seven percent of the 140 named submissions received on the two draft design concepts for the new civic square preferred Option 1 [which sited a waharoa on the street corner and the cenotaph towards the rear of the site]. Based on the community feedback, a final design concept has been prepared which includes three of the transitional projects: the nautical flag pillars, the mandala and the mosaic seat, lamp and garden bed. A report to the Lyttelton Mt Herbert Community Board on 22 August 2013 will seek recommendations to the Council to approve the final design concept and name for the new civic square. These will be reported to the Council in September 2013.

N5 Temporary landscapes

Members of the community, such as Lyttelton Art Space, are continuing to brighten up vacant sites on London Street, with Council assistance.

C1 Improved Utilisation of the Lyttelton Recreation Centre

C2 Investigation for and use of Council Property to Accommodate Community and Cultural Activities

C3 Combined Lyttelton Library and Service Centre Redevelopment

Following community meetings to start seeking feedback on repair or rebuild options for the Lyttelton Recreation Centre, community meeting space is being investigated for incorporation into the repair or rebuild of the Lyttelton Recreation Centre, Library and Service Centre. This could include refurbishment of the Council-owned former dwelling at 25 Canterbury Street [the flats] for mid-sized community meeting space in the short term. Given that the Lyttelton Recreation Centre had some spare capacity prior to the earthquake, the potential to accommodate other community activities will also be considered.

B2 Design and Character Guidance

An interim, non-statutory Design Explanatory Note illustrating the key design principles that are still relevant in the Town Centre Zone post-earthquakes has been completed. It has been produced for developers, the public and internal Council use. Copies are available from the Lyttelton Service Centre, Lyttelton Library, Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre, the Civic Offices at 53 Hereford Street and Rebuild Central at 36 Lichfield Street. It can also be accessed online here:

www.ccc.govt.nz/thecouncil/policiesreportsstrategies/SuburbsRejuvenationProgramme/LytteltonWorkProgramme.aspx

plenty to share

In Lyttelton so many residents grow vegetables; or have fruit trees literally dripping with produce. Plenty to Share is about sharing any excess produce with the community. So if your lemon tree is yellow with goodness and you can't keep up with making lemon curd, bring those surplus fruits down to the organisers, where every Saturday the swapping of produce is well underway in Lyttelton on the corner of London and Canterbury Street; and also in Diamond Harbour on a Saturday morning at the village centre. If there is something on the Plenty to Share table that you would like to take home, then you are warmly invited to do so.

B4 Identify and Assist Retention of Remaining Built Heritage

In July, the Council approved a Heritage Incentive Grant of $143,431 to help cover the deconstruction, transportation, re-establishment and restoration costs of returning the St Saviour's Chapel from Cathedral Grammar School to Lyttelton. It will be relocated onto the site of the former Holy Trinity Chapel at 17 Winchester Street.

What is Happening NOW?

Work in progress includes:

M4 London Street Public Realm Enhancements and Public Event Opportunities

N6 Local Landscape and Heritage Interpretation

The Lyttelton Mt Herbert Community Board has applied for funding to (1) investigate and resolve the compliance issues surrounding the permanent location of the Lyttelton Farmers' Market on London St beyond its trial period and (2) to prepare a Local Landscape and Heritage Interpretation Plan from the Capital Endowment Fund – Special One-off Project Scheme. The latter will provide the framework for the provision of such features as interpretative heritage plaques. The successful applications will be determined by the Council's Metropolitan Funding Committee on 11 September 2013.

B1 Rebuild and Recovery-Supportive Amendments to the Banks Peninsula District Plan

The Council has started the District Plan review, with an earthquake recovery-focussed phase to be completed by 30 June 2014 and the balance reviewed by 30 June 2016. This is a significant undertaking and will be the focus of the Council's Lyttelton Master Plan implementation for at least the coming year. The District Plan review will update the Town Centre Zone provisions and Lyttelton design guidelines. This will help to address the regulatory barriers to redevelopment that have been raised by members of the community. Details of the progress [in some cases significant] made on all 31 actions from the Lyttelton Master Plan by both the Council and community-based project leaders during 2012/13 can be accessed online here: <http://resources.ccc.govt.nz/files/TheCouncil/policiesreportsstrategies/SuburbsRejuvenationProgramme/2013/LytteltonMasterPlanImplementationinformation.pdf>

What is Coming Up?

Watch out for further information or action on the following:

N1 A New Civic Square

Assuming the final design concept for the new civic square is approved by the Community Board and the Council, a further separate community consultation will be undertaken in respect to two 5-minute car parking spaces proposed on Canterbury Street as part of the final design concept.

What Can I Do?

The Lyttelton Master Plan provides the community's vision for Lyttelton and the framework within which the Council, organisations and individuals can make decisions that contribute towards the town's rebuild and recovery. Familiarise yourself with its vision, goals and actions; keep up to date on its implementation by reading these articles (amongst other communications); participate in further community consultation and decision-making as the opportunities arise; and contact Janine Sowerby about how your redevelopment or actions could contribute to its implementation.

The Johnnys Live in Lyttelton

The Worlds First and Only All Girl, Johnny Cash Band

“When I tell people that The Johnnys are The Worlds First and Only All Girl, Johnny Cash Band they usually laugh, there’s a lot of intrigue from his fans as to ‘how the hell’ woman are going to sing Johnny Cash” laughs Suzi Fray, lead singer and guitarist.

One thing I know dad would say, 'An all girl band singing my songs. I want to hear this!' Oh, how he did love the girls!" - Cindy Cash 2012. (daughter of Johnny Cash)

From NZ’s Wild Foods Festival to the prestigious US Johnny Cash Music Festival, The Johnnys have forged themselves a great reputation delivering Johnny Cash songs like no one has ever heard them before without even a whisper of a baritone on stage.

The highlight to date for this Nelson based band is playing at the 2012 Johnny Cash Music Festival in California and to top it off, being invited back this year. Co Producer of the festival, Cindy Cash loved them saying “Their performance was amazing’ and festival Producer Ross Emery’s farewell words to the band were “you girls have really left your mark on California!”.

The US press picked up on their story too. The Johnnys featured in the LA Times, on Californian breakfast television and were showcased on a Santa Barbara TV station in the lead up to the festival.

At the festival itself The Johnnys shared the same stage as Queen of Rockabilly and headliner Wanda Jackson, Cash’s stepdaughter and country music star Carlene Carter as well as a number of other tribute acts.

“It was such a buzz, firstly to be actually playing at The Johnny Cash Music Festival and then to be dancing on stage with Cindy and the worlds biggest female Rockabilly legend, Wanda Jackson! it was very surreal, says Fray.

Most recently, in March The Johnnys entertained family and friends at Lynda Topps wedding in Stavelly, and they performed at the annual Cass Bash in Cass late last year. Their first Christchurch show at Naval Point in May was a sellout leaving many people disappointed, so they return for two nights this August.

‘From ‘Ring of Fire’ to ‘A boy named Sue’ If you love Johnny Cash, you’ll love ‘The Johnnys too, as best summarised by a fan... ‘Good on you girls!! Couldn’t imagine how girls could do Johnny Cash songs but it’s awesome ‘!

Information Centre Art Exhibition

Do you know that the Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre also has monthly art exhibitions? Curated by local resident, Reuben Romany, this month sees the work of Helen Dungey.

Helen was born in Lyttelton and lived at a farm on Brenchley Road. She is now a resident of New Brighton, but her fond memories of Lyttelton iconic buildings and landscapes are depicted in her acrylic artworks. Her style is classified naive. The response so far has been great and she has sold several works. Feel free to drop in to view her work.

Helen is exhibiting at the Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre for the month of August. Her works this month are acrylic artworks depicting iconic Lyttelton places and landscapes. The exhibition runs until August 31st. We look forward to you visiting.

Lyttelton Fireworks

Pull out the deck chairs as Firework Professionals Limited will be undertaking a display on Wednesday 21 August between 3.00pm and 6.00pm at the sticking point breakwater at Lyttelton Harbour. If you have any queries about this, please contact Anthony Lealand at Fireworks Professionals 03 982 3473.

Naval Point Barn Dance

Just a reminder that the yacht club Barn Dance is now just a few weeks away - Saturday 7th September! It is a fundraiser for our new club rooms - so it all goes to a good cause, and we have a fantastic band coming to play, so it is sure to be a great night!

But I need your help! I would really appreciate your support of the event. Would you mind mustering your crew, other sailors in your group, and friends to get a group together to come along? I don't have many personal contacts within the trailer yachts, dinghies and waka groups, so it would be great if you could work your networks for us to encourage these people to come.

It takes a lot of organizing to put these events on, and it makes life so much easier if we can pre-sell the tickets so we can cover the cost of the band and know in advance how many people we are catering for, food wise etc.

Tickets are just $20 for members and $30 for non-members and they are available from Ken at the club or let me know, and I can put some aside for you.

There is an event set up on the Naval Point Facebook page - you can go in to that and invite your friends that way too. Any questions, please let me know. Thanks so much, Viki Moore 03 328 7029.

Lost Necklace

A stunning silver pedant necklace with silver disc and gold clips has been lost, presumed last seen at the Lyttelton Garage Sale about a week or two ago when trying on some clothes, but could be found anywhere. Pedant is on a platted leather neck cord and has huge sentiment value to the owner. A reward is offered for its return. PLEASE contact Belinda 027 738 0943 if you have found it.

Residential Advisory Service

Did you know the Residential Advisory Service www.advisory.org.nz provides independent assistance to residential property owners to help them understand progress their repair or rebuild process. It involves a telephone interview to discuss and assess the owner's situation.

The service assists property owners to find the best way to address the challenges they are facing and gain a clearer understanding of their own repair and rebuild process. Some residential property owners may need general advice. Others may find it more helpful to have an independently facilitated multi-party meeting, where they can meet with other parties or representatives of the organisations relevant to their circumstances.

Everyone's circumstances are different, and one solution may not work for all situations.

For more information visit: www.advisory.org.nz

INEQUALITY – A NEW ZEALAND CRISIS

Edited by Max Rashbrooke

New Zealanders like to think of themselves and their country as world leaders, such as in sport, and women's liberation. It is shameful to find our image of social justice now being destroyed by the rising tide of facts about inequality in our country, and its consequences. This book 'Inequality – a New Zealand Crisis' reveals the details of how and why we New Zealanders rose to the worst extremes of inequality in every aspect of life, becoming a world leader among developed countries in damage to society. The contributors write from their own fields of research and experience in various aspects, in language accessible by the ordinary non-specialist reader.

Consider the current issues featuring in the news media, in protests, in appeals, in petitions: house prices, rising personal debt, food prices, child poverty, salaries of chief executives, children's health, rising crime and imprisonment rates especially among Maori, discrimination against Pacifica peoples, 'modification' of income support, rising unemployment, environmental issues, health issues such as obesity, Living Wage campaign, corporates and multinationals, tax avoidance and loopholes. All of these are linked with New Zealand's increasing inequality, and are dealt with in this book, so that we see the causes of these situations.

"Inequality" is not just a collection of serious articles, full of comprehensive details. Readers who do not have time for the whole book should certainly read all the "Viewpoints", and then read the final article, 'The future is now' by Linda Tuhiwai Smith of the University of Waikato. But actually, they will find the whole book compelling reading. This book does not simply describe the problems – although it does that in such convincing detail. It also shows us what people used to do about the problems, and what others are doing now, and what others want to do, and what others want us to do. I see these writings as forming part of the current groundswell of opinion and action in New Zealand to improve our society, which we need to encourage and support and take part in!

And today's quote:

There is more to life than increasing its speed - Mohandas K. Gandhi

Additional session: The New Zealand local government system - how do we compare? - Mike Reid. Wednesday 21 August, 7.00 - 9.00, at the WEA, 59 Gloucester Street, $8

What are the essential elements of a good local government system and to what degree are they reflected in the New Zealand local government system? By international standards the New Zealand local government system is relatively young. How then does it compare with local government systems elsewhere? Are there things we can learn from other countries that will improve local and regional governance and make our communities better places to live in and will recent local government reforms make a difference? Mike Reid, a Principal Policy Adviser for Local Government New Zealand, was formerly senior social policy analyst at Christchurch City Council and recently completed his PhD on the subject of community governance.
