Arts Come Alive in Lyttelton

No.6 London Street: Lyttelton Arts Space

Like most things in Lyttelton there is resurgence. The township is regaining its place as the creative hub. New projects are replacing those gone and there is a general feeling of mood change and optimism. People are doing things differently. We have the privilege of being change makers and experimenters. Talking to Kate Peters and Ros Dixon the creators of Lyttelton Arts Space this is very evident. With very few indoor art spaces these women came up with the novel idea of an outdoor arts space. Originally set up and operated on the Moda Fotographica site it was then moved to the number 6 London Street site with the permission of Graham Allen. The pair have created an arts space that is open every fine Saturday morning while the popular Lyttelton Farmers Market is running.

“It is a work in progress” says Kate. It also includes some landscaping with “Trees for Canterbury kindly donating soil and plants” she said. Whilst not totally finished if you have plants to contribute they would love to hear from you. They are both keen to have an edible garden. Local restaurant Roots have donated quite a few strawberry plants to enhance the site.

With outdoor art props inspired by Tony Geddes concept designs, the two are creating quite a unique space. The artists must agree as well. Bill Hammond contributed to the project by supplying a work. Other exhibitors include, Roberto Carvalho, Kate McRae, Roger Hickin, Jason Greig, Jim Instone, Martin Cole, Jacob Chick, Anne Skelton and Stephanie Crisp.

Ros says the main goal is “to create a great exhibition space for established and emerging artists in an exciting space”. They are dreaming big and want a host of artistic endeavors to be at the site. Their long term goal is to have something undercover on the site and the two are working in conjunction with Roots Restaurant to have indoor exhibitions.

Plans for the site also include special arts events. Poetry, films and other genres will be included and specialty arts evenings are planned. Their venture is on the way to becoming an Incorporated Society. They want this to be a community owned place where all earnings are put back to support the arts. Another key goal is to create more work for existing artists. “With so few galleries and art spaces it is hard for artists. Lyttelton needs it artists and this project helps them to stay” says Ros.

If you are interested to be part of the Lyttelton Arts Space contact Ros 021 134 7907 or Kate 022 017 6295 or email them at lytteltonartspace@gmail.com.

Building Confidence, Defending Titles

Whangaraupo Netball Club

In terms of player participation and public interest, netball is the most popular women's sport in New Zealand. And around seventy five years ago, the South Island Maori Netball Association started with just two clubs, Kaikoura and Dunedin. Today the association has six clubs including Dunedin, Kaikoura, Lyttelton, Southbridge, Temuka and Tuahiwi, who are all preparing themselves to compete for a number of prestigious trophies in recognition of sporting excellence.

At home here in Lyttelton the Whangaraupo Netball Club has three teams in training [midgets, juniors and seniors] to retain the Tirikatene Trophy, the aggregate cup awarded to the top performing team of the season. Alongside this trophy, last year the Whangaraupo Netball Club proudly returned home from the annual competition with four further trophies as winners in the Senior [Pitama Trophy], Midget [Otautahi Trophy] and Marching [Rehu Trophy], together with the Junior team being awarded runners up [Solomon Trophy].

But the South Island Maori Netball Tournament is more than just netball, as it celebrates culture, embraces connection and develops confidence in tomorrow's leading women. On tournament day, each team begins with marching, then netball and the sports day finishes in the evening with a banquet where teams must perform a kapa kaka – all of which are judged, and winners announced. The skill sets required across the three compulsory categories heightens connectedness and strengthens team spirit.

Apart from an understandable break during the 2010-2011 seismic events, the Whangaraupo Netball Club have participated in each annual tournament for the past twenty four years, and have won more than forty trophies. Every Sunday you will find the Whangaraupo Netball Club meeting at the Lyttelton Main School for practice, with parents and family volunteering support. Volunteer coaches Maria and Corrina are encouraging and training the teams to learn new skills, in the build up to this year's tournament being hosted in Kaikoura on Saturday September 28.

In discussion with the clubs representative, Flo McGregor, it is revealed that the team would love to return with the Te Ari Pitama Culture Trophy this year, the only trophy not yet won by the Whangaraupo Netball Club. The Pitama Trophy has strong historical relevance to Lyttelton, being created in honour of the Briggs family who have generational ties to the harbour community. "It would be nice to think that maybe this year is our year for the Pitama Trophy" says Flo. It is easy to see how proud Flo is of the club participants, and how the club has progressed over the years.

Like all local clubs, fundraising for equipment, uniforms and travelling to tournaments continues to be a challenge. Parents meet many costs to support their children play, but the club undertakes fundraising activities to help ease the financial burden for families. On Saturday 21 September, the Whangaraupo Netball Club are hosting the Lyttelton Garage Sale on Oxford Street [behind the swimming pool] and all funds raised will help the team travel to Kaikoura at the end of September.

Lyttelton School Merger Update

Firstly, a big thank you to all who have attended the sessions run by the Master Planning team over the last week. The Board and I have already received feedback, ideas, concerns and suggestions that are much appreciated as we work our way through the project. The Board has been working hard to keep you informed and maintain a steady course in establishing the new school. I am personally very impressed by their dedication to the tasks at hand and appreciative of the gifts and abilities of the Board members.

We are excited about the possibilities for our new school. I remain confident that we will negotiate any challenges before us productively and positively to get the best result for our children. There are of course a considerable number of activities to be undertaken as well, such as the Principal appointment, staff needs analysis and decisions regarding how the merged school will operate in the interim before the one school site is completed in July 2015. With the Principal position for the new school already advertised, we are hoping to make an appointment by the end September.

School Purchases No.1 Sumner Road

And In Discussions To Secure More Land

The Ministry of Education has reached an agreement to purchase 1 Sumner Road, adjacent to Lyttelton Main School on the corner of Oxford Street and Sumner Road. It was formerly the home to Moda Fotografica. This is great news as it will add over 400 square meters to the footprint of the new school, expected to built by June 2015. The Ministry of Education has initiated discussions with New Zealand Police about the possibility of acquiring part of the current Police site.

The Appointed Board of Trustees is still awaiting final geotechnical reports on both the Lyttelton West site and the retaining wall at the St Joseph's site on Winchester Street. Until these reports have been completed we are unable to develop options for the placement of temporary classrooms. We will consult with staff and the community before any decisions are made.

Splish Splash Hopes for 2015

Council Committee Recommends Swimming Pool Rebuild

Councillors at the community, recreation and culture committee meeting held last week agreed that the Norman Kirk Memorial Pool [Lyttelton Pool] and the Lyttelton Recreation Centre should be repaired and improved, despite none having insurance claims settled.

Insurance proceeds pending fall short of the total required to replace or repair and improve these two facilities, with an anticipated $2.5m needed from the ratepayer to complete these two projects.

It is understood that the council would have to take on some degree of risk as proceeds from the insurance claims were not yet established, meaning the council may end up footing the total bill, recreation and sports unit manager John Filsell said. However, he was confident the insurance claims would ultimately be settled. "Both facilities have been discussed with the community and the result is unanimous support for the repair and replacement of these assets," he said.

Repairing the Norman Kirk Memorial Pool to 34 per cent of the New Building Standard is estimated to cost $2.05m, but there is a risk that the existing foundations will not support the repaired structure. It will cost about $2.65m to replace the facility to 100 per cent of the New Building Standard and improve parts of it, including sun shading and increasing the size of the toddlers' pool. Councillors agreed it was better to replace and improve the facility for $2.65m, with $954,424 expected to come from insurance and the balance of $1.7m to be paid by the council.

The Lyttelton Recreation Centre and Trinity Hall is repairable to 34 per cent of the New Building Standard with the insured sum, but it is not possible to meet 67 per cent without significant ground improvement works at the council's cost, and this might be tantamount to full replacement. If the council chooses to replace the facility, it is believed that only the indemnity insurance value of $1.66m would be available. The total cost to the council for repair of the centre, after deducting estimated insurance proceeds, is about $826,500. Councillors agreed that the building should be repaired to 67 per cent of the New Building Standard, foundations to 34 per cent and improvements made.

Committee chairman Cr Yani Johanson said the facilities were important to their communities. He said it was opportune to take the chance to improve the facilities when fixing them. Cr Barry Corbett said getting the pool open was a priority for the city.

The committee agreed that despite neither of the facilities have reached a final insurance settlement it would proceed with repairs so progress could be made. It is hoped that both pools could be open for the 2014-15 summer season and the Lyttelton Recreation Centre be operating by mid-2014.

The committee's recommendation will go to the full council for a decision on September 12.

Pacific Quilts

Visit the Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre's monthly exhibition. This month we have a wonderful display of quilts by Paula Smith. Made from recycled shirts and woven together creatively these quilts are quite beautiful and definitely worth a visit.

The exhibition is open for the month of September. Opening hours are Monday to Saturday 10-4pm and Sunday 11-3pm.

Canterbury Water Regional Committee Meeting

The Canterbury Water Regional Committee will meet at Rapaki Marae for its bi-monthly public meeting on Tuesday, 10 September. The meeting will begin with an update from the Biodiversity and Ecosystem Working Group, which will include an update on the progress being made on the three Immediate Steps biodiversity flagship projects.

In early 2011 the regional committee decided on three biodiversity flagship projects of regional significance to support over the next five years, to the value of $1.2m. These are the Te Waihora / Lake Ellesmere enhancement project; enhancement of the upper catchments of the Rakaia and Rangitata rivers; and the Wainono Lagoon project. At the meeting, the committee will also receive an update from the Regional Infrastructure Working Group. The Canterbury Water Management Strategy (CWMS) identifies infrastructure as a means to contribute to all the strategy's targets.

In particular, infrastructure can address future-proofing issues such as ecosystem support in a changing climate and water quality management through enhanced reliability and distribution efficiency. Another focus for the committee at the meeting will be on supporting the implementation of the recreational targets in the CWMS. The committee will discuss whether there are any new actions required at a regional level to support the implementation of recreational values and discuss forming a Recreation working group.

The committee will finish the meeting by considering the updated content on Kaitiakitanga for the Kaikoura Zone for inclusion in Annex 1 of the Regional Implementation Programme, before receiving updates from zone committee representatives.

Meeting at Rapaki Marae begins at 2:30pm. Guests should gather outside the marae at 2.00pm ready for a Mihi Whakatau at 2:15pm.

Drawn Together

Art Submissions Sought

The Harbour Arts Collective's forthcoming exhibition at the Tin Palace is "Drawn Together". We are seeking artworks to form a group show that will exhibit the variety, quality and innovation of artists working in the region. The work may be a completed work or a study for a work in a different medium. We shall be taking part in the international event, "The Big Draw" which is organised by the Campaign for Drawing. This means we want work that will inspire visitors to also create and draw works in response to our exhibition.

The closing date for submissions is 13 September. Please ensure that you answer all of the questions in your submission and attach all of the required documentation. Incomplete submissions may not be considered. Questions include: How does your work respond to the theme "Drawn Together"? How does the theme "Drawn Together" inspire you? Would you be interested in providing a drawing workshop, if so what do you propose? Would you be interested in providing an artist talk? Have you provided the title, dimensions, artist statement, biography and retail price of your work? The Tin Palace charge 20% commission on sales so specify a retail price including the 20% commission. I understand that there is a $50 fee for exhibiting at the Tin Palace. Your work will be provided, ready for installation (i.e. framed with hanging instructions). Remember to specify any power requirements. I have permission to exhibit and sell my work from my existing gallery. My work is insured. I will deliver my work to the Tin Palace gallery by 2nd October and collect my work by 26 October.

You are very welcome to view the Tin Palace space. We are open during exhibitions, Thursday-Friday 11-3 and Saturday-Sunday 10-4. Outside these times or, if you have any queries regarding the submissions, please contact Anne Mortimer on 0211466968 or email curator@tinpalace.co.nz. We look forward to meeting you and receiving your submissions.

Greater Christchurch Bus Fares to Rise

Bus fares in Greater Christchurch are to rise on 30 September, reflecting the increasing cost of fuel, inflation and costs from the earthquake recovery. Environment Canterbury Passenger Services Manager David Stenhouse says "We have not increased fares since August 2010 because we recognised the hardships faced by Metro customers in the post-earthquake environment. However because of the rising costs of fuel and road user charges, and the financial impact of road works across Greater Christchurch, the council can no longer hold off making the increase."

The Government, through New Zealand Transport Agency (NZTA), has set a policy that by 2017, 50% of bus service costs have to be recovered from fares.

"In the 2012/13 year, the fares recovered were just 37% of overall costs, so we have a way to go to reaching this target," says Mr Stenhouse.

Patronage across Greater Christchurch is increasing with latest data showing a 14% increase from July 2012 to July 2013.

FROM THE APPOINTED BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE LYTTELTON MERGED SCHOOL

5TH SEPTEMBER 2013

From Tom Scollard - Board Chairman

Firstly, a big thank you to all who have attended the sessions run by the Master Planning team over the last week. The Board and I have already received feedback, ideas, concerns and suggestions that are much appreciated as we work our way through the project. The Board has been working hard to keep you informed and maintain a steady course in establishing the new school. I am personally very impressed by their dedication to the tasks at hand and appreciative of the gifts and abilities of the Board members.

We are excited about the possibilities for our new school. I remain confident that we will negotiate any challenges before us productively and positively to get the best result for our children. There are of course a considerable number of activities to be undertaken as well, such as the Principal appointment, staff needs analysis and decisions regarding how the merged school will operate in the interim before the one school site is completed in July 2015. With the Principal position for the new school already advertised, we are hoping to make an appointment by the end September.

Tom Scollard, Appointed Board Chairman

Principal Appointment Process

The process to appoint the Principal for the merged school has begun. The position has already been advertised in The Press as well as The New Zealand Education Gazette. The Board is seeking an experienced leader who can lead change, build a team, manage transition and develop a school which will provide high-quality learning outcomes for students. Applications close Monday 9 September.

Property Update

The Ministry of Education has reached an agreement to purchase 1 Sumner Road, adjacent to Lyttelton Main School on the corner of Oxford Street and Sumner Road. It was formerly the home to Moda Fotografica. This is great news as it will add over 400 square meters to the footprint of the new school. Governance of the Lyttelton Schools

The Lyttelton Main Board of Trustees ceased in July 2013 and Lyttelton Main School is now governed by the Appointed Board of Trustees for the merged school. The Lyttelton West School Board of Trustees remains in place until the merge. Jillian Frater is the Chairperson of the LWS Board of Trustees.

MESSAGE FROM THE LYTTELTON WEST BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The Lyttelton West School Board continues to exist as an autonomous board until the 5th May 2014 when the two schools merge. Three members of the Lyttelton West School Board are also members of the Appointed Board of Trustees for the new Lyttelton Merged School. Until the merger takes place, our role is to continue to govern Lyttelton West School in a way that empowers children to reach their full potential.

Although the LWS Board has no decision-making authority in terms of the new school, where the opportunity exists, we are working with the Appointed Board of Trustees for the new Lyttelton Merged School to ensure the best outcomes for all children in the community. We appreciated the recent Master Planning evening organised by the Appointed Board where the community was given the opportunity to provide some input to the architects for the new school.

Jillian Frater
LWS Board of Trustees Chairperson

Master Planning Workshop Review

Two planning workshops were facilitated by Architectus last week. The first was for all staff at both Lyttelton West and Lyttelton Main schools as well as Board members from Lyttelton West and Appointed Board of Trustees.

A second workshop was held on Thursday night for community members. A wide range of people attended the workshop and it was great to see many common themes being discussed.

The list of things we liked about the current schools included:

- Sense of community and belonging within the schools
- Connection with the community – schools seen as the hub/heart of our community
- Connection with Rapaki
- Views of the harbour – connecting the school with our environment
- Children of different ages mixing
- Both schools have halls large enough to accommodate the whole school.

What we wanted to change included:

- Lighter & brighter teaching spaces
- Multiple site levels need to be linked – needs to be good flow
- Early childhood education located nearby.

Modern Learning Environments

What is a modern learning environment or MLE? And does it make a difference?

Research has proven there is a link between quality of educational facilities and the level of student achievement.

Although the Ministry of Education website contains guidelines and examples of modern learning environments there doesn't seem to be a definition of what it is.

Modern learning environments use the latest initiatives of acoustics, air quality, heating, insulation, lighting design, furniture and information technology.

Spaces are open and flexible enabling students to learn in variety of different ways. But it's not just about buildings. It is about the way teachers teach and the different ways children learn. Teaching is collaborative as there are multiple teachers working in a single space.

Board of Trustees visit MLEs

The Board of Trustees was keen to see an MLE in action so several trustees have visited the recently completed Clearview School at Rolleston. Two trustees, Crile and Barry, also went to Auckland to see Stonefields School and Hobsonville Point School.

The key observations at Stonefields School included:

- There were three teachers in a shared space with approximately 75 children. The teachers worked together collaboratively (modeling what they were trying to teach the kids) in a way that made the best of teachers' individual skills and strengths.
- Buildings included clever design features such as library windows at ground level so children could be sitting on the floor, reading, and be looking out the window.
- The people and the teaching techniques were more important than the space; the space allowed more variety in teaching practice than a conventional single cell classroom would.

The Board was interested to see how children with learning differences and those who need their own quiet space cope in this type of environment.

- The teaching spaces all had smaller breakout rooms where individuals or smaller groups could work. There were also a variety of other spaces that meet other children's requirements.

Governors Bay Living Streams

You are warmly invited to hear

Andrew Crossland, CCC ornithologist

speaking about

Native Birds and their Habitat including Streams

What birds live in Governors Bay. How important are streams to birds. What is it about streams that attracts birds? What plants along streams provide good food for birds.

Wednesday, 25th September at 7.30 pm
Fire Station Hall
Governors Bay

Contact for information: Helen Chambers: 329 9561 or helen.trevor@clear.net.nz

Governors Bay Living Streams group is part of the Environment Canterbury Living Streams programme. The purpose of the group is for Governors Bay to be renowned for its uncontaminated naturally flowing streams that provides a healthy habitat for native fish, plants and birds. And also for the streams to be valued by the stream-side residents and be supported by the wider community.

"By the streams the birds of the air have their habitation; they sing among the branches."

Key decisions from today's Environment and Infrastructure Committee meeting

Christchurch City Council Environment and Infrastructure met today, with the key decisions made outlined below:

Urban design plan seeks 'Airspace' to revitalise Central City

The Committee recommended the Council grant approval for the proposed leasing and occupation of Council-owned airspace by Hereford Holdings Limited, at Cashel Mall and Oxford Terrace. The space will be used to create enhanced gathering areas and will help attract people back into the Central City.

Community Boards to assist in identifying priority works

The Committee recommended that the incoming Council develop a process with the Community Boards to identify existing and new projects that should be considered for fast-tracking in conjunction with SCIRT works when they are due to be delivered

Council asked to sell land to facilitate business development

The Committee recommended that the Council sell a 20-metre strip of land at Springs Road to adjoining land owners which will allow them access to Margaret Eggers Drive.

Heathcoate Valley noise complaint

The Committee referred a complaint about noise in Heathcoate Valley back to the Hagley Ferrymead Community Board for their further consideration. There have been reports of a low frequency hum by people in the area.

Helmores Lane Bridge repairs

The Committee recommended to the Council that it initiates consultation with the Hagley-Ferrymead Community Board and local community on repair work to Helmores Lane Bridge. The bridge has a Group 3 Heritage listing and prior to its closure due to earthquake damage, was used by about 1000 light vehicles per day.
